US SAYS IT RECOGNISES ARUNACHAL PRADESH AS INDIA'S INTEGRAL PART

US opposes any unilateral attempts to advance territorial claims by renaming areas, White House Press Secretary Karine Jean-Pierre said

CHINA CLAIMS IT'S STANDARDISING NAMES

China on Wednesday justified the act of renaming. Chinese foreign ministry spokesperson Mao Ning said: "Zangnan (Chinese name for Arunachal) is part of China. In accordance with relevant stipulations of the administration of geographical names of the State Council, competent authorities of the Chinese govt have standardised the names of some parts of Zangnan"

- Reiterating its stand on Arunchal Pradesh, the US said that Washington has always recognised the territory as an integral part of India
- "This is something that we have long stood by," Jean-Pierre told reporters on Wednesday
- On Tuesday, India had outrightly rejected China's renaming of places

Oppn gambit to rein in CBI, ED fails in SC

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday refused to entertain a plea by 14 Opposition parties against the alleged misuse of Central law enforcing agencies like the CBI and ED by the Union government against political opponents. The pleas filed by the Congress, TMC, AAP, JMM, JDU, BRS, RJD, SP, Uddhav faction of the Shiv Sena, NC, NCP, CPI, CPM and DMK had urged the court to lay down guidelines for law enforcing agencies and courts on remand, arrest and bail.

"Political leaders stand absolutely on the same footing as that of the citizens of the country. They are entitled to the same protection of due process of law and they are not entitled to higher immunity. When you say that the space of the Opposition is being crunched, the answer to that lies in the political space and not in the court," a bench of Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud and Justice J B Pardiwala remarked.

Noting that the data highlighted in the plea "only pertained to politicians", the court said laying down general principles of law which would also be applicable to ordinary citizens would be a dangerous proposition in the absence of specific facts.

Arguing the joint plea before the court, senior advocate A M Singhvi said the alarming rise of incidents of wanton arrest of opposition political figures by the CBI/ED has a chilling effect on constitutionally protected activities, making the democratic playing field uneven. he said the Opposition together represents 42.57% of the vote share in the 2019 general elections for the Lok Sabha, adding if the political leaders of these parties are affected, the people in their constituency will also be affected.

The moment you say 'democracy, basic structure, skewed application of law to political leaders', then this plea is essentially for politicians. You can't say that political leaders have no access to courts

- SC bench

The Opposition had urged the court to lay down a triple test — determination as to whether a person is a flight risk, whether there is a reasonable apprehension of the tampering of evidence, or the influencing/intimidation of witnesses — for police officers/ ED officials and courts. In case the pleas are not satisfied, the parties urged the court to lay down alternatives like interrogation for fixed hours or at most house arrest.

Sensing the bench's disinclination to consider the plea, Singhvi sought permission to withdraw the petition, which was granted.

Criticism of govt isn't anti-establishment: SC

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday lit into the Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) for invoking national security out of 'thin air' to deny broadcasting rights to Malayalam channel Media One, adding criticism of the government cannot be termed anti-establishment.

Directing the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting (MIB) to renew the channel's broadcasting permission within four weeks, a bench of Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud and Justice Hima Kohli said non renewal falls within the purview of restriction on freedom of press.

"The critical views of the Channel, Media-One on policies of the government cannot be termed, 'anti-establishment'... The action of the MIB by denying a security clearance to a media channel on the basis of the views which the channel is constitutionally entitled to hold produces a chilling effect on free speech, and in particular on press freedom. Criticism of governmental policy can by no stretch of imagination be brought withing the fold of any of the grounds stipulated in Article 19(2)."

Dwelling on the independence of the press, the court said the government has to accept criticism and cannot expect all sections of the media to take a homogenised view. "An independent press is vital for the robust functioning of a democratic republic... The press has a duty to speak truth to power.. The restriction on the freedom of the press compels citizens to think along the same tangent. A homogenised view on issues that range from socio-economic polity to political ideologies would pose grave dangers to democracy."

Since security clearance was denied because of the channel promoters' alleged link with Jamaat e Islami Hind, the court termed the allegations fallacious. It also said that the non-disclosure of reasons for denial of security clearance by MHA and disclosure only to court in a sealed cover violated the principles of natural justice and the right to fair proceedings, leaving the company to fight in the dark.

Hits out at sealed cover procedure

Criticising the sealed cover procedure accepted by the high court, the bench said, to give intelligence reports absolute immunity from disclosure is antithetical to a transparent and accountable system

41% RISE IN CRIMES AGAINST SCs,STs IN K'TAKA IN 5 YEARS

KARTHIK K K @Mysuru

KARNATAKA has seen a sharp rise in atrocities against the Scheduled Castes (SCs) and Scheduled Tribes (STs) in the last five years despite the ST/ST (Prevention of Atrocities) Act and other initiatives in place to prevent offences against members of these communities.

According to data from Karnataka State Police, the state has seen 41% increase in cases of crime against SCs and STs (by non-SCs and STs) over the last five years. In 2018, the state reported 1,536 cases and 1,585 in 2019. The increasing trend continued for the next three years, with the state reporting 1,691 cases in 2020 (despite Covid 19), 1,744 in 2021 and 2167 in 2022.

The increase in the number of cases from 1,536 in 2018 to 2,167 in 2022, which is nearly 41%, can be attributed to various factors. One of them is that the conviction rate in such cases is low. CONTINUED ON: P5

BJP gets 'Kiccha' Sudeep's campaign boost

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE ruling BJP in Karnataka got a boost with actor 'Kiccha' Sudeep on Wednesday declaring that he will campaign for the party for the Assembly elections.

The party hopes that the actor, who hails from the Valmiki (ST) community, can influence voters from the community, who are in large numbers in central and other parts of Karnataka. The actor, however, clarified that he will not join politics. "I am here to support Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and will campaign wherever he tells me to," he said.

He made this announcement at a press conference with Bommai. "I personally feel that many good things are happening in the country. This is again my perspective and has nothing to do with the party. As a responsible citizen and taxpayer, when some good things happen, I express my opinion. I respect PM Narendra Modi's leadership and decisions. This is my opinion and has nothing to do with me sitting here," he said.

Of the total population of Karnataka, the percentage of the Valmiki (ST) community is around 7, which is close to 43 lakh people. They are mainly concentrated in central Karnataka, including Ballari and Chitradurga districts. P5

Now, poll checkposts causing jams?

Saleem attributes it to over 100 checking points set up by election officials across the city

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

Officials check a car at Sirsi Circle on Wednesday. Right: Traffic jam hasn't even spared the newly inaugurated underpass on Old Airport Road | NAGARAJA GADEKAL, KP PRASUNNA

WHILE Namma Bengaluru's traffic seemed to have eased to an extent after a slew of measures were introduced by Special Commissioner of Police (Traffic) MA Saleem a few months ago, it is back to square one in areas such as Hebbal, Hosur Road, Mysuru Road, KR Puram, Whitefield, Marathahalli and Kadubeesanahalli.

"I usually take around one hour to reach Koramangala from Marathalli. On Wednesday morning, it took me almost 1.5 hours to reach Koramangala. There was a huge traffic jam at Marathalli junction," said Madan, an autorickshaw driver.

Among the junctions, where steps have been taken to ease congestion after Saleem took charge, commuters point out that Goraguntepalya, Sarakki, Kumaraswamy Layout, and Banashankari bus terminal are managed well by traffic policemen. However, the situation has not improved at Kadubeesanahalli, Silk Board, KR Puram, and Hebbal flyover.

Traffic on the Hebbal flyover is manageable. However, motorists proceeding towards Marathalli create confusion as they have to enter the service road, take the flyover, and then take a left turn. It would be better if some signages are put up so that motorists proceeding towards Marathalli keep left to enter the service road, Padmanabha, a regular commuter, said.

Saleem said that the traffic police have been working towards easing congestion with a special focus on entry and exit points of the city. There might be a slight increase in traffic, he said attributing it to over 100 checkposts across the city set up by the election authorities. Rains too slow down traffic in the city.

"As the model code of conduct is in place, vehicles are stopped randomly and checked. This is affecting the smooth flow of traffic. As some of our traffic cops are also involved in this duty, you cannot find all of them managing traffic," Saleem said.

Missing graves? Lokayukta team visits site, to file report by April 12

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

Lokayukta SP Lakshmi Ganesh inspects a property on Wednesday, following a plaint that graves were destroyed to build a BBMP office in JJ Nagar | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

ACTING on a complaint that more than 2,000 graves of the Hindu community were destroyed to build a Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagar Palike (BBMP) office and a sports complex at the behest of political leaders, the Lokayukta police on Wednesday conducted a spot inspection of the property at JJ Nagar in Chamarajpete.

Lokayukta Superintendent of Police Lakshmi Ganesh and team spoke to the complainant S Bhaskaran and other petitioners, and later sought details from locals to gauge the ground reality and know the veracity of the complaint before filing a report by April 12.

Speaking to reporters after the Lokayukta inspection, Bhaskaran claimed that as per the BBMP health department documents, the property was a Hindu burial ground with thousand of graves. But a BBMP office came up here a few years ago, and now a sports complex is being built at property numbers 136-10034-115 and 136-10034-117 at a cost of Rs 1 crore. The property was a graveyard belonging to Kannada- and Tamil-speaking Hindus, he said.

"From 2011 to 2019, 5,800 deceased were buried here. But now, manual counting shows that over 3,000 samadhis are missing. We want the missing mortal remains to be traced and FIR registered against persons responsible for this," said Bhaskaran. He added that after the inspection, a report will be filed by the Lokayukta police and based on the report, the further course of action will be decided.

However, the locals differed with the claims made by petitioners. According to them, the area was a small hillock that was owned by zamindars and it was not a graveyard.

"About 4,500 families are living in Janata Colony, which is next to the Hindu burial ground. A few decades ago, the entire surrounding area was called Padarayanpura. After delimitation, it was split into three wards -- JJ Nagar ward no. 136, Padarayanapura ward no. 135 and Royapuram ward no. 137. The site, which the petitioner claims to be a graveyard, is next to Janatha Colony and is not a graveyard. I am saying this as I grew up here. If at all any person comes and destroys the graves, as a Hindu will I keep quiet?" said Chandrashekhar, a resident.

@Bengaluru

MORE than 5 lakh people are expected to witness Bengaluru's flagship Karaga festival. All preparations are in place and the Karaga procession will start from Dharmarayaswamy temple in Tigalarpet on Thursday midnight on Chitra pournami as per the Hindu calendar.

At 10.30 am on Thursday, a priest carrying the Karaga, dressed in turmeric-colored saree and wearing bangles will offer Ganga Puja to Goddess Draupadi at the Karagad Kunte of Cubbon Park. From there, the Hasikaraga will be brought to the mandapam, where special pooja will be performed. The Karaga procession will come out the temple at 12.30 am on Friday.

The procession will cover nearly 38 km, passing through areas of Cubbonpet, Ganigarapet, Avenue Road, Balepete, Doddapete, Kumbarapete, Gollarapete, Ulsoor, KR Market, Cottonpet and other areas.

While there were objections to the Karaga visiting Hazrat Tawakkal Mastan Saheb Dargah by some right-wing outfits, the Bengaluru Karaga Samiti clarified that this is an age-old practice and is an indication of religious harmony and the practice will continue without any change. Samiti members said the Karaga will visit the Dargah like how it visits Hindu temples on the way.

BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath, who is also the District Election Officer, told TNIE that clear directions have been given to the organisers that there shouldn't be any political speech or any violation of the Model Code of Conduct.

Plan to make Malleswaram walkable again

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TO make footpaths and conservancy lanes in Malleswaram well connected and improve walkability in the area, Malleswaram Urban Living Lab (MULL) has planned to put sign boards across the lanes to help people navigate the area better and explore historical and cultural places that would be missed otherwise.

Under 'Walkable Malleswaram', the group plans to map out all the conservancy lanes and other main areas marking them with numbers or boards mentioning places and critical landmarks of the area -- Janatha Hotel, Planter Coffee Home, Krishna Temple, KC General Hospital, Sankey Tank, MLA High School being a few of them.

The team convened a meeting with the residents of Malleswaram to gain inputs about the cultural and historical stories from the area to understand the layout better and use them while executing the project.

Recreational equipment like stone benches and hand railings will also be put up under the initiative to provide citizen spaces to sit and spend their leisure time. The conservancy lanes are expected to be developed as recreational spaces beyond only lanes to walk through other areas, the team said. The initiative was started during the pandemic (in 2021) and has even received funding from the Directorate of Urban Land Transport (DULT) to execute the project.

Suchitra Deep from MULL explained that over time walkability has become poor in the area. The roads are designed for vehicles now and not for people.

BBMP Commissioner Tushar Girinath chairs a monsoon preparatory meeting on Wednesday | EXPRESS

WITH roads in Mahadevapura zone flooded after the 58-mm deluge on Tuesday and traffic taking a hit, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Commissioner Tushar Girinath chaired a monsoon preparatory meeting.

"The first round of stormwater drain (SWD) cleaning will be taken up by the end of April in all zones and this will be repeated again in May," Girinath told reporters after the meeting.

He said small incidents of water logging were reported on Tuesday and the water receded quickly. To ensure steps are taken at vulnerable points during heavy rains, the BBMP has decided to enter into an agreement with the Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitoring Centre (KSNDMC) to install rain gauges in 200 vulnerable points (stormwater drains).

"The gauges will send an alert if the level indicates any possible flooding. Based on these signals, we can send officials to the spot for timely action," said Girinath.

The Commissioner also pointed out that he has directed all the Chief Engineers and Joint Commissioners to take up desilting of stormwater drains by April-end. "The second level of cleaning will be done again in May before the arrival of monsoon in June. The small incidents of flooding were due to all civic agencies working on a war footing before the monsoon and leaving the utilities and material on the roadside," he said and directed officials to clear obstructions at the earliest.

Girinath also said 50 per cent of engineers from the SWD Department are on election duty, but they will also carry on with SWD work during the monsoon as 450 km of drains have to be well maintained.

A 24x7 control room will be set up at the BBMP head office with officials from the Bengaluru Water Supply and Sewerage Board and Bengaluru Electricity Supply Company.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You may look beyond the narrow limits of your own life, and consider getting involved in activities that you might have ignored until now. This is an auspicious moment for taking new initiatives, even if partners have already made a start. You might have some catching up to do.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
A word about your physical well-being would come in handy, for this looks like a useful moment to get yourself in shape. You should tackle bad habits and consider whatever changes in exercise and diet are necessary to tone up. Oh, and keep a loved one informed about your latest plans.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You have made all the right moves recently, and by all accounts you are continuing to do so. You may therefore allow yourself a brief pat on the back! At work realise that your own interests can only be achieved if you depart from the straight and narrow.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Please don't jump to hasty conclusions - and do make sure that you have all the relevant facts at your fingertips. If you base your actions on conjecture or rumour you will go badly off course. Rest assured that colleagues are willing to be persuaded.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
The accent is now on travel, and you are probably aware of the need to broaden your horizons. A handsome selection of planets suggests that whether you're old, young or in-between, now is the time to take your education into new fields. It's never too late to learn!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Much depends on your success in attracting extra funds, for that is the only way you'll be able to afford your domestic and family plans. It's quite a hopeful moment, but don't mistake slow progress for no progress. Voluntary work adds to your quality of life, so get out there and do your bit for others.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You're treading an emotional tight-rope, unsure of which way to jump. Problems will only arise if you are so sensitive that you lose your self-confidence. It would be a shame if you also lost touch with your objectives, yet be assured that you'll be back on course before long.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You may be looking for an escape route, but in reality you probably don't need one. It may be sufficient just to duck out of an engagement or two, and give yourself enough time to decide whether you want in or out. No doubt impatient people will put pressure on you, but you'll do your best to resist.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
This is one of those moments when emotional intimacy can flower, apparently out of nowhere. It is therefore a perfect period for making new friendships and deepening old ones, and of course for relishing rare romantic encounters. Plus, an old friend might walk back into your life.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
For some time now you have suspected that if other people aren't actually undermining you, they're not giving you the support you deserve. This may be because you over-estimated what could actually be achieved. It might also be up to you to set a better example!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Your two main tasks should be to sort out your finances first, and then sit down and talk to people about your plans, securing their agreement if you can. All should be done within an overall ethical framework, the value of which will be to provide you with personal guidelines.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Perhaps you do not understand just how confused other people feel. But you, more than anyone, should both realise how difficult it is to cope under pressure, and how partners require a few words of support. You need to take a leap of the imagination - and soon!

Renounce Pak citizenship first, HC tells minor siblings

Directs mother to produce documents for Indian status; Pak laws prohibit minors from renouncing citizenship

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court made it clear that Indian laws cannot be made flexible to grant citizenship, if Pakistan laws are inflexible to allow minor children to renounce their citizenship before they attain 21 years to get Indian citizenship. The court asked a mother to produce all necessary documents before the authorities concerned, in terms of the Citizenship Act, for grant of Indian citizenship to her minor children.

"Unless such renunciation comes about, no directions could be issued to the Ministry of External Affairs to consider the case of the mother for grant of citizenship to the children. Therefore, it is for the mother to place all those materials sought by the authorities, to consider the grant of such citizenship in favour of the minor children. No mandamus would lie in the peculiar facts of this case," said Justice M Nagaprasanna.

The order was passed while rejecting the petitions filed by a girl (17) and a boy (14), represented by their mother Ameena from Basavanagudi in the city. They were seeking consideration of their pleas filed through their mother to the ministry in May 2022, to issue passports and Indian citizenship.

The children's father, Assad Malik, is a Pakistani citizen, while the mother is an Indian citizen. They were residing in Dubai after their marriage in April 2002. After divorce was granted by a Dubai court in 2014, custody of the minor children was handed to the mother. The children were declared to be Pakistani citizens, by virtue of their father's Pakistani nationality, Pakistani citizenship and passports.

The court said the children are not "stateless" as they are declared to be citizens of Pakistan. They have only surrendered their passports but not their citizenship of Pakistan. The Citizenship Act of 1955 does not grant citizenship to those persons who are already citizens of another country and who also hold passports of any other country, be they major or minor. The mother may be an Indian citizen, but the children cannot be granted citizenship as they are already citizens of Pakistan, the court added.

In reply to the mother's representation, the Consulate General of the Islamic Republic of Pakistan, in April 2021 observed that under Section 14-A of the Pakistan Citizenship Act, 1951, only an individual above the age of 21 can apply for his/her renunciation of citizenship by virtue of which his/her minor children below the age of 21, residing outside Pakistan, will cease to be citizens of Pakistan. Minor children cannot renounce their Pakistani citizenship. The Pakistan authorities should also indicate that they have no objection for grant of Indian nationality to the children.

'FAKE' OFFICERS

Aspiring TTEs paid ₹6 lakh each to agency

ENS @ Bengaluru

IN a shocking incident on Wednesday afternoon, the ticket checking squad of Bengaluru Railway Division on board the Chamrajnagar-Bengaluru Passenger bumped into four individuals also working as Ticket Collectors on the train but found them to be fakes. Though arrested for impersonation, it turns out that they were victims of a recruitment scam possibly taking place across the South Western Railway Zone.

The incident took place around 12.30 pm when the train neared Kengeri. A top Government Railway Police cop told TNIE, "We have taken them into custody and booked cases against them for impersonating as Travelling Ticket Examiners. Our preliminary interrogation reveals that each of them have paid Rs 6 lakh for their post in the Railways created by a fake recruitment agency."

The four have been booked under Sections 419, 468 and 471 of the IPC. He said,"The agency which hired them gave them the designation of Probationary Ticket Collectors and asked them to merely play the role of observers on the train. They began duty just a week ago (March 28). The appointment orders were fake." Detailed investigations will reveal the extent of the recruitment scam, he added. The actual ticket squad headed by Arun D' Souza noticed their suspicious behaviour and asked them to produce their Identity cards. The ID cards which designated them as Probationary Ticket Collectors were of Mahantesh Shinde (27), Shrivari D Telka (20), Humed Athar Nadaf (27), and Mohamed Saleem Mulla M (31).

An official release said Railways would never send probationary ticket collectors for checks on trains. "The identity cards listed father under the dependent category which confirmed it as a bogus card," he said. A source informed, "Railway employees are only allowed to list their spouse and children as dependents and not their parents. The mother's name can be given if the father has passed away and has no other source of income."

They were immediately handed over to the Railway Protection Force for investigation. The fake TTEs claimed to be natives of Belagavi. Divisional Railway Manager, Shyam Singh, appreciated the alertness of the Ticket Checking squad.

Cops identify charred body found in car

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KODIGEHALLI police investigating the case of a charred body found in a gutted car, identified the deceased as Vinod, a resident of Doddabommasandra.

Vinod, who had separated from his wife, was staying with his mother, Kantha. Addicted to alcohol, he did not go home regularly, and often slept at deserted places.

Around 1am on March 29, when he was sleeping in a car parked at a scrapyard in Bhadrappa Layout, the lit mosquito coil is suspected to have resulted in a blaze.

The mother and sister of the deceased identified the body based on the shorts he wore. They confirmed to police that Vinod was missing since March 29. Police have ruled out the possibility of murder.

Autism awareness is still low, opine experts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AUTISM, compared to other disabilities, remain under the radar, and needs efforts for early identification and screening, said former commissioner for disability in Karnataka, VS Basavaraj.

For Autism Awareness Month this year, 15 NGOs collaborated for a cultural event on Wednesday at Bal Bhavan in Cubbon Park to raise awareness about Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD). It is a neurodevelopmental disorder that affects communication, social interaction and behaviour, characterised by repetitive actions and issues with socialising.

Ruby Singh, vice-president, Autism Society of India, said one in 60 people in Karnataka is said to suffer from autism, and the number is growing on a daily basis. Since it has no permanent cure, the focus is to detect children with autism at an early stage when there is better scope to train them, than identifying them when they are older.

Usually, a child with autism starts showing symptoms within 15-18 months after birth -- behaviour issues, irritability, no eye contact while talking, late responses are seen at an early stage.

Awareness is needed to ensure that parents can also spot the symptoms which help them diagnose their children as autistic, provide them necessary therapy and training, Basavaraj said.

Government intervention is needed to screen children for autism, and train paediatric doctors to critically observe them. Lack of skills among people working in a government setup is a major reason why the rate of identification is low, he added.

LLOYD Nehemiah (54), brother of an army officer, who was attacked by three software engineers for raising objection to loud music, succumbed to injuries on Tuesday.

The victim is the younger brother of Colonel David Nehemiah, who is presently serving in Kashmir. The neighbours informed the matter to the police control room. The accused are identified as Ram Samanth Rai, Basudev Samanth Rai and Abhishek Singh. "Out of the three accused, two have been arrested. While the other accused has gone to his native after the incident and will be arrested. All three will be charged for murder," S Girish, DCP, Whitefiled, told TNIE.

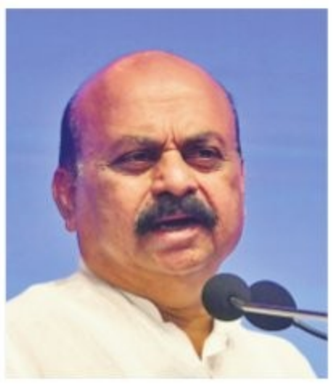
CM'S MAHA WARNING TO SHINDE: WITHDRAW HEALTH SCHEME

Basavaraj Bommai says Karnataka too will roll out a similar insurance policy for Kannadigas in Maharashtra if it fails to act

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru



THE Karnataka Government and the Opposition parties in the state slammed the Maharashtra government for implementing its health insurance scheme for people in border villages in Karnataka. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai warned that if the neighboring state continues with such an attitude, Karnataka will have to retaliate by rolling out a health insurance scheme for Kannadigas living in Maharashtra.

The Chief Minister said the Maharashtra government is trying to create confusion when the border row is before the Supreme Court. Terming Maharasthra's decision to implement the scheme for people in Karnataka as the height of arrogance, Bommai said it is an attempt to disturb cordial relations between the two states.

Bommai said that during a meeting convened by Union Minister Amit Shah, Maharashtra Chief Minister Eknath Shinde, and his Deputy Devendra Fadnavis had promised that they would not create any confusion on the border issue Now, the coverage of the Jyothirao Pule health insurance scheme for the people residing in 865 villages on the Karnataka side was a threat to the federal system and the Maharashtra Government must immediately revoke its orders and respect the commitment given during the meeting convened by the Home Minister to help in maintaining a good relationship between the two states, the CM added.

Opposition Leader in the Assembly Siddaramaiah said despite opposition, the Maharashtra government went ahead and implemented the scheme. It must be withdrawn immediately, he said.

'Cong scared that black money will come out'

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said the Election Commission of India and the Income Tax Department are functioning independently and action will be taken against those who have done a mistake. He asked Congress leaders why they are afraid. They are adopting this tactic as they are scared that the black money amassed all these years will come out, the CM said responding to a question on Congress leaders expressing apprehensions about IT raids ahead of the polls.

The Congress is trying to put pressure on officials who are conducting raids impartially and stop it, he said.

Maha's move against federal structure: HDK

BENGALURU: Senior Janata Dal (Secular) leader and former chief minister HD Kumaraswamy has slammed the Maharashtra government's move of providing insurance to villagers of bordering districts and has warned that the Union Government's silence on the issue may lead to the collapse of the federal system in the country. Kumaraswamy, in a series of tweets on Wednesday, attacked the Maharashtra government for implementing an insurance scheme for people living in 865 villages in the border areas of Karnataka and said the neighbouring state was interfering in the internal matter of Karantaka in several issues. "The Bharatiya Janata Party double engine government in Maharashtra is frequently troubling Karnataka. It has a China mindset and treats Karnataka like an enemy country. The Central BJP-led government has been a mute spectator to these developments. This may lead to the collapse of the federal system," Kumaraswamy added. Alleging that the Maharashtra government was crossing the limits of a federal system, the former chief minister suspected whether the Union Government was making Karnataka the scapegoat for 'Shinde-model politics'. "If not, why the Modi government is silent towards the arrogance of the Maharashtra government?" he questioned. ENS

Will quota issue tilt scales in Shikaripura?

MARX TEJASWI
@ Shivamogga

THOUGH Bharatiya Janata Party and Congress are yet to announce their candidates for Shikaripura, election fever has already gripped the constituency — a bastion of the saffron party since 1983.

State BJP vice-president and son of former chief minister BS Yediyurappa, BY Vijayendra, who is likely to be the candidate from here, has increased his pace of campaigning, while Congress workers are waiting for the party to announce the candidate.

Shikaripura is grabbing the eyeballs this time as former chief minister and Lingayat strongman BS Yediyurappa — who recently decided to retire from electoral politics — has announced his son Vijayendra as his successor to the constituency.

It is curious to know whether the voters will pick Vijayendra and reiterate that Shikaripura is the bastion of BJP, or elect a Congress MLA after a gap of two decades. Though Yediyurappa has been representing the segment since 1983, he had to suffer a defeat in 1999 when BN Mahalingappa of Congress won by 7,561 votes.

In 2008, 2013 and 2018, Yediyurappa was successful in winning over 50% of the votes, the highest being 66.23% in 2008 when it was the 'Clash of the Titans' between Yediyurappa and S Bangarappa, who contested on a Samajwadi Party ticket.

The constituency has large numbers of Lingayats, SCs, STs and Muslims. Among SCs, the Banjara community, which forms the biggest chunk, has been supporting BJP for a long time. But it is not sure whether they will show similar support to the saffron party this time, given that protesters from the community threw stones at Yediyurappa's house after the Basavaraj Bommai government implemented internal reservation for SCs, with a cap of 4.5% for touchable communities like Banjara, Bhovi, Koracha and Korama.

When The New Indian Express visited Shikaripura on Wednesday, many voters expressed their wish to vote for BJP. Some Banjaras, expressing their anguish over the reservation issue, too said they want more clarity on the quota, which is what the BJP cadre is focussing now. Kudachi MLA P Rajeev has also visited the constituency and held talks with Banjara leaders.

Some voters said they will decide a little later and after BJP and Congress announce their candidates.

Congress, seeing a glimmer of hope, too is working hard in the constituency with party ticket aspirants — Nagaraj Gowda, Pushpa Shivakumar and Goni Malatesh — putting in the effort. The Congress polled 32.26% of votes in 2013 and 33.31% in 2018.

Vijayendra: No doubt, we will get clear majority

BJP state vice-president BY Vijayendra, likely BJP candidate from Shikaripura, has already visited all villages in the constituency, and is now on tour again to meet grassroots workers. Vijayendra speaks to Marx Tejaswi en route to villages to meet booth-level workers. Excerpts:

Will the row over internal reservation for SCs that led to a massive protest by Banjaras be a roadblock for your victory as Banjaras also hold the key here?

Such a question does not arise. The opposition parties tried to create confusion, but our workers are reaching out to Banjara voters. The Bommai government's decision will benefit Banjaras. But the opposition, especially Congress, were shocked by the government's decision and indulged in politics over the issue in Shikaripura. But they will not be successful. Shikaripura is the citadel of BJP and will remain so.

How many seats do you think BJP will win?

We are confident that we will get a clear majority. There is no question of Congress coming to power, it's only BJP that will.

Are you willing to contest from Varuna?

My father has already clarified that. Party workers in Varuna wanted me to contest from there. But when party workers of Shikaripura invite me to contest from here, it is my duty to respect their feelings. But the party will take a final call and it will be known in four or five days.

Do you think that Lingayats will continue to vote for BJP?

Nobody limits Yediyurappa to a community and people of all communities have accepted his leadership. Minorities also express their support to Yediyurappa and my brother BY Raghavendra as they have developed the constituency and also ensured that there are no tensions.

ELECTION SQUAD SEIZES FOUR BUSES OF PILGRIM VOTERS

TUMAKURU: The Election Commission flying squad seized four buses in which Madhugiri JDS MLA MV Veerabhadraiah had allegedly sent voters on a pilgrimage. Police registered an FIR in connection with the matter on Wednesday. A couple of days ago, videos of voters going on a tour to Dharmasthala and other places, with the MLA himself sending them off, went viral on social media. The squad zeroed in on the buses and seized them on their return. JDS leaders had organised the trip for about 150 voters of different villages on behalf of the MLA, it is alleged. Veerabhadraiah was not available for comment. Meanwhile, IT sleuths raided two houses belonging to a businessman in Gandhinagar area of Tumakuru, and seized Rs 25 lakh in cash. The accused allegedly had connections with politicians, and the raid was carried out following a tip-off by his rivals, sources told TNIE.

JDS WON'T BURDEN PEOPLE TO IMPLEMENT SCHEMES: KUMARASWAMY

BENGALURU: Senior Janata Dal (Secular) leader and former chief minister HD Kumaraswamy has said that he will not burden people by imposing an additional tax or will not borrow loans to implement the 'Pancharatna' schemes if his party is voted to power. The JDS leader, who held the 'Pancharatna' campaign in Gandhinagar and Chamarajapet Assembly constituencies on Thursday, said the 'Pancharatna' programme had schemes that would help eradicate poverty in Bengaluru as the schemes address issues such as education, health, housing and employment. He reiterated that Rs 5,000 pension to senior citizens, Rs 2,500 for widows and specially challenged and Rs 2,000 for auto drivers will be given.

Differences subside in Congress, but fight still on over seat selection?

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

DIFFERENCES within Congress seem to have been ironed out, but party leaders, especially Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) president DK Shivakumar and Congress Legislature Party (CLP) leader Siddaramaiah, are in a fight to safeguard the interests of their supporters in seat selection.

"They are trying to get the numbers in their favour if the party comes to power. For instance, Shivakumar favoured former minister Motamma's daughter Nayana's candidature, among others, during the selection of candidates," said a party insider.

Shivakumar took the seat battle to the Siddaramaiah camp by getting more tickets for his followers. But there seems to be a tacit understanding between the two leaders with Siddaramaiah not touching constituencies in the Vokkaliga belt of the Old Mysuru region, including Bengaluru, except for a few seats. Shivakumar has conceded regions where Kurubas, the community Siddaramaiah belongs to, are in sizable numbers, especially in the central Karnataka region, a source said. But this peace could only be short term, he warned.

AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge mostly went by the party surveys. But he has also managed to keep Shivakumar, Siddaramaiah and other leaders to restrict themselves to the regions where they have some clout, sources said. This is evident from Vokkaliga leader Puttanna, who resigned as BJP MLC, being assured of Rajajinagar seat, while Siddarmaiah's follower NY Gopalakrishna the Molakalmuru ticket.

Siddaramaiah is said to have backed Kimmane Rathnakar, Byrathi Suresh, Akhanda Srinivasmurthy, Santhosh Lad among others. Shivakumar supported Umapathy Gowda for Bommanahalli, Keshav Rajanna (Yelahanka) and Dhananjay (Dasarahalli), who are Vokkaligas.

There was confusion in Mandya and Hassan districts as Shivakumar has been backing novices, especially Muralimohan, who hails from Jigani in Anekal constituency.

Veterans, including M Veerappa Moily, Dr G Parameshwara and KH Muniyappa, tried to have their say, but failed as Kharge, Shivakumar and Siddaramaiah prevailed, a source said. But the big question is whose faction will win how many seats. On this front, Shivakumar is at a disadvantage as JDS is still a strong force in Old Mysuru.

POLL-READY

Congress 2nd list out today, says Surjewala

ENS @ Benglauru

THE contentious second list of candidates for Congress that was expected to be announced on Wednesday will have to wait till Thursday. "Before 11 am tomorrow, a list of candidates will be released. The CEC will continue its discussion on the remaining few seats tomorrow at 2.30 pm," said Congress General Secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala.

The Congress Central Election Committee members were huddled in a meeting on Tuesday and Wednesday to decide the second list which is expected to include almost all the remaining 100 seats. While there has been unanimity on the majority of seats, there is no clarity on a few seats, sources said. Deciding the first list was easy as the party mostly picked sitting MLAs or those who lost by narrow margins. The second list is taking time as they have to depend on party surveys and ground reports sources said.

LEVEL PLAYING FIELD

Amid Big 3, smaller parties look to make it big in Battle 2023

CHETAN MG @ Bengaluru

WHILE the Big 3 — BJP, Congress and JDS — are striving hard to come to power in Karnataka, there are a few other political parties that want to open their account in the May 10 Assembly elections.

The Aam Aadmi Party (AAP), which is in power in Delhi and Punjab, wants to make inroads in Karnataka, especially in urban areas.

Though it fielded candidates in all 28 Assembly constituencies in Bengaluru in 2018, voters were not in the party's favour and as a result, all candidates lost their deposits.

The Social Democratic Party of India (SDPI), which has a strong presence in coastal Karnataka, contested only three seats but got a vote share of 10.5% in the segments it fought.

This poll season, there are a few new parties which are lined up to make an impact. Upset over not getting the importance he enjoyed in the BJP earlier, former minister Gali Janardhana Reddy has floated Kalyana Rajya Pragati Paksha, hoping to dent the prospects of the saffron party, particularly in the Kalyana Karnataka. Also, there are new parties such as Karnataka Rashtra Samiti (KRS) Party and actor Upendra's Uttama Prajakeeya Party (UPP) which are making some noise. While KRS Party has connected with the public through its fight against corruption and maladministration, UPP has drawn the people's attention through its unconventional approach.

NO OF PARTIES THAT CONTESTED K'TAKA ASSEMBLY POLLS

2013	59
2018	83

Political observers, however, opine that the voters of Karnataka have always chosen national or large regional parties over small and new political outfits.

"Ideologies of parties play a key role in their existence. Many come up with the ideology of fighting corruption but they are not major issues for voters during this period. Unless they fill up the ideological gaps that exist, their survival is an impossibility," said a political expert.

Ravi Krishna Reddy, president, KRS Party, however, said his party would be a disruptive political entity this election. "We are the most visible and active political party on the ground and social media. In the last three-and-a-half years, we have come a long way and have close to 40,000 paid members. We are completely a crowd-funded party and there is no other party which is as transparent as ours. There is an overwhelming response from people, who are impressed with the campaigns we have organised. KRS members will contest from all 224 constituencies. I am confident that we will make an impact," he said, adding that the party will also play a big role in ensuring a free and fair election.

HC hears BJP plea on Bandi arrest as 'first matter' today

TS oppn party contends police actions are unlawful, arbitrary, violative of principles of natural justice, and unconstitutional

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Hyderabad

JUSTICE Abhinand Kumar Shavili of the Telangana High Court on Wednesday admitted a house motion habeas corpus petition filed by BJP Bhagyanagar district president Samreddy Surender Reddy.

Surender Reddy moved the petition, aggrieved by the actions of the police in detaining and arresting BJP state president Bandi Sanjay from his residence in Karimnagar on April 4. He contended that the police's actions were unlawful, arbitrary, violative of principles of natural justice, and unconstitutional. The court directed the registry to list the matter as the first case on Thursday.

The petitioner claimed that on April 4, Sanjay went to his residence in Karimnagar at about 11 pm to attend the 10th day ceremony of his mother-in-law on April 5. While he was having dinner at about 11.30 pm, the police detained him and took him away forcibly without informing him or his family members of the reason.

Telangana BJP president Bandi Sanjay raises his fist in front of his supporters, after coming out of the residence of the Warangal first-class magistrate on Wednesday

The police also prevented him from taking his daily medicines for his heart problem and a lawyer from meeting him, the petitioner alleged. By preventing Sanjay from attending the customary 10th day ceremony of his mother-in-law, the police denied him his Right to Life and Liberty as guaranteed under Article 21 of the Constitution, he said.

The petitioner further alleged that the police moved his client from one location to another. As a result of the high-handed and illegal police actions, the family members, party leaders, and workers were concerned about his whereabouts and his illegal incarceration, he said. The petitioner requested the court to order the police to immediately present Sanjay before the court and order his immediate release in the interest of justice. The High Court will consider the plea as the first matter on Thursday. Respondents in the plea include the Principal Secretary, Department of Home; DGP; Karimnagar Police Commissioner; Rachakonda Police Commissioner; SHO, Karimnagar I-Town Police Station; and SHO, Bommalaramaram Police Station.

Police name Karimnagar MP as accused number 1

IN New Delhi, BJP MPs submitted a privilege motion notice to the Lok Sabha Speaker.

The police named the Karimnagar BJP MP as accused No 1 and booked him under Sections 120(B), 420, 447, 505 (1)(b) of IPC, Section 4 (a), 6r/w 9 of TS Public Examination (Prevention of Malpractices) Act, 1997, and Section 66-D of the IT Act. All these are non-bailable provisions, which entail 3-7 years of imprisonment. Besides Sanjay, the police named nine others as accused, including a minor boy in the paper leak case.

The developments came after a minor photocopied the Hindi question paper from a student, who was taking the exam at the ZP high school at Kamalapur in Hanamkonda district on Tuesday. A copy found its way into WhatsApp groups. The A-2, Boora Prashanth, forwarded the same to Sanjay and other BJP leaders and journalists. According to the police, as per the WhatsApp chats between Sanjay and Prashanth from Monday onwards provided evidence that both hatched a conspiracy. The remand report stated that this was 'a case of preplanned and evil designed criminal conspiracy', with an intention to create rumours and provoke breach of peace and to show it as the failure of the government to prevent the paper leak, the report said.

FIVE men who were taking part in a temple ritual at Moovarasampet Lake near Madipakkam in Chennai drowned in the water body on Wednesday morning. They were part of a group of 25, including priests, who had entered the lake to perform 'theerthavari' ceremony for the panguni uthiram festival of Dharmalingeshwarar Temple in Nanganallur.

All the five bodies were retrieved by fire department personnel and sent to Chromepet Government Hospital for postmortem. CM MK Stalin expressed his condolences and ordered Rs 2 lakh solatium each to the families of the victims from the CM's Public Relief Fund. The Pazhavanthangal police are probing the case.

Police identified the deceased as B Surya alias Gururajan (24) R Raghavan (22) and V Vanesh (19), all from Nanganallur, and P Yogeshwaran (19) of Keelkatalai, and R Sriram alias Raghav (19) of Puluthivakkam. Police said Surya, a Class-10 dropout, worked with his father in their catering company, and Raghavan and Sriram were pursuing CA. Vanesh was pursuing BCom through correspondence and Yogeshwaran worked at a car showroom. Police said the victims did not know swimming.

"The victims had gone to the lake for the ritual with a group of people around 10 am. Nearly 25 from the group entered the water. As part of the ceremony, they formed a circle inside the water holding hands to take holy dips. While taking the dips, three of them drifted away to deeper parts of the lake and started drowning. Two others, who saw them, tried to pull them out but they too lost balance, drowned and went under water," a police officer told TNIE.

Upon information, personnel from Palavanthangal police station and Velachery Fire and Rescue Services units rushed to the scene. The bodies were retrieved. Temple authorities could not be reached for comment.

Quota move may make poll ride tough for BJP

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @Bengaluru

THE ruling BJP in Karnataka is likely to face backlash from various communities ahead of the Assembly polls on May 10 over the issue of reservation, especially with regard to the Scheduled Caste (SC) quota being categorised into four groups.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai had himself claimed that he has been trying to look at addressing the issues of reservation for all communities. Now there are signs of the decisions backfiring on the ruling party ahead of the polls. For instance, the Lambani community is upset, with some members allegedly throwing stones at former CM B S Yediyurappa's house in Shikaripura, and a religious head also attempting suicide.

"We have rejected the Sadashiva Commission report, but have categorised the quota. We have helped the Lambani community by filing a report in their favour at the National SC Commission that it cannot be removed from the SC category," Law Minister J C Madhu Swamy maintained, following the resolutions of Bommai's last cabinet meeting.

Govt corrects caste names in groups

In a corrigendum issued through an order on March 27, 2023, the government included Adidravida, Bhambi, Madiga and Samagara in Group-1; the Adikarnataka, Chalavadi, Holaya, Channadar, Mahar, and its synonyms in Group-2; the Bajara, Bhovi, Korama, Koracha, and its synonyms in Group-3; and as many as 88 castes, including Adiya, Bant, Bedajangam, Budga Jagam, and Bhangi in Group-4.

The community which was enjoying an existing 15-per cent quota among 101 SC castes has now been 'restricted' to Group-3 with 4.5 per cent cap with four castes. These communities started backing the BJP after 2008, as they reposed their faith in Yediyurappa.

The SC right, which was accorded 5.5 per cent in Group-2, was traditionally with Congress, and is likely to go with the Congress as AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge is their leader. Meanwhile, the SC left, which has been given 6 per cent, may continue to back the BJP, as Union minister A Narayanaswamy and state minister Govind Karjol also belong to their group. But the 88 other communities in Group-4 being given a mere 1 per cent quota may tilt the balance. Former chairman of Backward Classes Commission, Dr C S Dwarakanath, claimed that in fact their population is not less than 5 per cent, and the 1 per cent quota is inadequate.

The issues related to the Panchamasali Lingayats and Vokkaligas also likely to have an impact too. Though Panchamasali seer Sri Jaya Mrutyunjaya Swami called off their strike, he said it will be resumed after the polls, as the hike of 2 per cent against the 15 per cent sought is not enough. Meanwhile, Kunchitiga Vokkaliga seer Sri Nanjavadutha Swami took on the government in Mandya on Monday over a 2 per cent hike. Meanwhile, Bommai blamed the Congress for inciting the people over the quota, which is unlikely to die down anytime soon.

Video led to arrest of accused in a few hours

THIS video is said to have resulted in the police identifying his location, which subsequently led to the five being arrested within a few hours of posting the video. The Ramanagara police were helped by the Rajasthan and Gujarat police. The accused, who will be produced before a court in Rajasthan, will be brought to Karnataka after obtaining a transit warrant.

The other accused have been identified as Gopi, a resident of Gadagaihanadoddi of Ramanagara taluk, Pawan Kumar of Nonaburu in Thirthahalli, Pilling Ambigar, a resident of Basavanagudi, and Suresh Kumar of Raichur. Of them, Pawan Kumar is said to be an electronic media reporter. "The accused, after the incident (on Saturday morning), had taken the Belagavi route to escape first to Gujarat, and from there to Rajasthan," BR Ravikanthe Gowda, IGP, Central Range, told TNIE. Four teams of Ramanagara police were formed to nab them. They were arrested while trying to escape in a car, which was intercepted at Banswara.

Mandya's Pasha, along with Irfan (37) and Syed Zaheer (40), was transporting around 15 cattle (buffaloes and cows) in a vehicle, which was allegedly waylaid by Kerehalli and his associates, who were in a car near Santemala Circle around 12.30 am on Saturday. Pasha and Irfan escaped, while Zaheer was caught and allegedly assaulted. Kerehalli is said to have demanded Rs 2 lakh and threatened to kill him if he didn't pay. The police reached the spot and took Kerehalli, his four associates, and Zaheer to the police station. However, some hours later, Pasha's body, with marks of torture, was found a few hundred metres from Sathanur police station.

CCB to investigate threat letters to Sudeep

ENS @Bengaluru

CCB sleuths are on the lookout for the people who sent two threat letters to the JP Nagar 6th Phase residence of actor Kiccha Sudeep. The accused have used derogatory words against the actor and threatened to release his private videos.

Sudeep's manager Manjunath, alias Jack Manju, had filed a complaint at Puttenahalli police station on March 29. The letters were sent to the actor's house on March 10. The manager, when contacted by TNIE, refused to comment, saying it's an old matter.

City Police Commissioner Pratap Reddy transferred the case from Puttenahalli police station to the CCB on Wednesday for further investigations. Somebody who was aware of the letters is suspected to have made it public just a few hours before the actor's press conference announcing his decision to support the BJP.

During the presser, the actor said he is aware of the person who sent the letter, and it is from the film industry.

"It is an old issue. Don't know why it has popped up now. Anyways, I don't want to comment on the matter. We don't know the person behind it. A complaint was filed with the police," Manjunath said.

DCP (South) P Krishnakant told TNIE that the case was transferred to CCB for further investigations. A case of intentional insult with intent to provoke breach of the peace (IPC 504), criminal intimidation (IPC 506) and criminal conspiracy (IPC 120B) has been registered against the accused.

CM stood by me, recalls actor

THE BJP, which has already made attempts to woo this community through its reservation policy, has now roped in Sudeep, who belongs to the Valmiki caste. Sudeep said he is supporting Bommai whom he fondly calls "mama" (uncle) as he had helped him during his days of struggle. "If he tells me to campaign for certain candidates, I will do so," he added. Sudeep said he would have campaigned for Bommai even if he was in a different party. "My decision to support Bommai will not change my fans' opinion about me," he added. On corruption, Sudeep said the country has strong laws to prevent it. A few weeks ago, Sudeep's photo with KPCC president DK Shivakumar went viral. This led to speculation that he would join the Congress. When asked about this, the actor said he personally knew Shivakumar. "Leaders of political parties do approach actors to contest in elections or campaign for them. It is common," he said hinting that Congress had approached him. Bommai said that one should respect his relationship with Sudeep. "He has not joined BJP. He is here to support me. We also need his support. He is here to campaign for me and the party," he added. Asked if he had organized the press meet, Bommai said, "If it was from the party, it would have been at the BJP office." Meanwhile, slamming BJP leaders, Congress said they (BJP) have understood that they will neither get votes through Modi nor Bommai. That is why Bommai has roped in a cine actor.

COMPLAINT: Even as Sudeep announced that he would campaign for BJP, a complaint has been filed with the chief electoral officer of Karnataka to stop the actor's TV shows and films in the state. In his complaint, Shivamogga-based advocate KP Sripala stated that telecast of Sudeep's TV shows and screening of his films would influence voters. They would be in violation of the model code of conduct. Hence, Sudeep's TV shows and films should not be telecast or screened.

28 rape cases till Feb 28

BECAUSE of this, perpetrators commit similar crimes, according to a former member of the state-level vigilance and monitoring committee under the SC/ST (Prevention of Atrocities) Act. The former member pointed out that while most of the offences are related to attack, attempt to murder and rioting, there are cases of murder, rape and molestation of SC/ST women. As far as rape cases are concerned, 130 were reported in 2018. The number of cases increased to 210 in 2019, came down to 153 in 2020, went up to 188 in 2021 and 222 in 2022. Twenty-eight rape cases have been reported till February 28 this year. Other cases against members of these communities stood at 299 till February end.

CCTV footage in police station missing on day of torture

THINAKARAN RAJAMANI
@Tirunelveli

CCTV recordings for March 10, 11 and 12 of Ambasamudram police station, where about 10 suspects including two juveniles, were allegedly tortured by suspended ASP Balveer Singh and a few other policemen have 'gone missing' due to a technical error in the system. According to sources, police had said this to Cheranmahadevi sub-divisional magistrate MD Shabbir Alam when he visited the station to check the footage on Tuesday.

Six suspects, including E Chellappa, were named in an FIR (49/2023) registered on March 10. The complainant in the case was R Ganesan. Along with the suspects and the complainant, Ganesan's three friends, including two juveniles, were allegedly brought to the Ambasamudram police station for inquiry on that day.

The victims' teeth were allegedly pulled out using pliers, their private parts were injured and they were thrashed with batons, the victims had told reporters.

According to the directions of the Supreme Court issued on December 2, 2020, if there is any fault in CCTV camera, the SHO must immediately report it to the district collector, who is the chairman of district level oversight committee (DLOC).

However, an official of the magisterial division of the Tirunelveli district collectorate said no information about faulty CCTVs was received from the Ambasamudram SHO for the dates.

LYNCH FRINGE CAN MAR NOT JUST ELECTIONS BUT K'TAKA FABRIC TOO

Communal politics hit a new low in Karnataka with the death of a cattle trader allegedly lynched by a fringe mob. It is a spine-chilling reminder of similar incidents in Uttar Pradesh and Rajasthan, unheard of in the South. Two anomalies marked this crime—that it happened in Karnataka, known for peace and harmony, and was executed in Sathanur, the stronghold of Congress leader D K Shivakumar. The body of Idrees Pasha, the assistant driver of the cattle van, was found close to Sathanur police station. The cattle traders were moving from Mandya to Tamil Nadu via Kanakapura, a belt not known for the extreme communalism that marks coastal Karnataka. Main accused, Puneeth Kerehalli, who heads a right-wing group Rashtra Rakshana Pade, is booked for murder.

The lynching gave the Opposition a solid issue to flay the ruling party, which was met with silence from Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and his ministers. The lack of unqualified condemnation encourages criminals like Kerehalli, a self-styled cow vigilante who used to campaign to boycott Muslim businesses, big and small. That he had demanded ₹2 lakh from the cattle traders and even shot a Facebook Live video while on the run indicates his brazen confidence that he can get away with the crime. The Congress is now going to town with photographs of Kerehalli posing with BJP leaders, but that would not help save Karnataka.

There is anticipation that as the state heads into elections, communal flareups, moral policing and hate speeches to polarise voters could be reported. And such a heinous crime hints at the desperation of the fringe elements. Opinion polls have indicated that the BJP has a tough fight ahead this summer, and whether such vigilantism will impact the voting trend will be apparent only next month. The party's three-year reign was marked by a string of communal incidents and allegations of corruption, and there is barely any noteworthy development it can seek its votes for. In such a fraught situation, the BJP government should uphold the law and not spare the culprits lest the incident is exploited to polarise the voters in the coming elections. Such communalism must be met with pushback by right-minded citizens, though it is also known that extremism only begets more extremism. Besides giving Karnataka a bad name, these incidents destroy the social fabric in the long run.

KERALA TRAIN VIOLENCE: BEEF UP SECURITY NOW

The shocking incident of an unidentified man entering the Alappuzha-Kannur Executive Express train and spraying inflammable liquid on passengers, leaving three, who tried to escape the fire by jumping off the train, dead, highlights the need for a better security system in our passenger trains. The Maharashtra Anti-Terrorism Squad (ATS), in coordination with central intelligence agencies and the Kerala police, detained a man in connection with the case from Ratnagiri late Tuesday, within two days of the incident. The NIA has also joined the probe, but the motive is yet unknown.

Railways Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw and Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan were quick to congratulate the investigating agencies, including the RPF, NIA, and the Kerala police, for apprehending the person swiftly. While they should be commended for the speed with which they nabbed the suspect, the incident again exposed the lax rail security. One can easily assume that the authorities have not taken seriously the 2006 Mumbai train bombings that killed 209 people and injured more than 700 people. There have been several security lapses on passenger trains in Kerala, and women were the victims in most cases. In February 2011, Soumya, a 23-year-old woman, was raped and murdered on a passenger train from Ernakulam to Shornur. A woman teacher had died after jumping from a Nagercoil-Kottayam passenger train after a suspicious-looking man entered the ladies' coach last June.

Rail passenger associations have been complaining about the indifferent attitude of the Railways in upgrading the security systems inside trains and at stations for quite some time. Most CCTV cameras at stations do not function, and there is a need to install scanners at the stations. It is not that the government did not devise plans to ensure security in railway stations. As per a plan announced in 2019, the security systems at our railway stations were to be upgraded on par with the airports. Initially, about 200 stations were to implement this plan, including closing entry points about 15–20 minutes before the train departure. But there has yet to be a forward movement after the announcement. Now that another unfortunate incident has happened inside a train, the Railways should increase the security of the trains and stations without wasting time. The passengers' protection and safety are certainly the Railways' responsibility and must be its topmost priority. Everything else is secondary.

BURDEN OF ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE

Italy bans ChatGPT, the first government to block an AI tool over privacy concerns. Germany wants to follow suit. But India plans to use it to develop an educational tool for helping students with homework in any language. ChatGPT has several limitations. But that's no reason to block new technology. Massive data theft was happening even before AI came in. It is a matter of having guard rails for safe use. A future worry, as top scientists sought a pause in developing it last week, is really about AI creating a digital mind of its own that its creators cannot control.

In the last few years, the drugs problem has acquired another dimension. From just being a transit route, a new culture of illegal poppy cultivation has arrived in the hills

EXPANDED GOLDEN TRIANGLE MANIPUR'S NEW NIGHTMARE

PRADIP PHANJOUBAM

Editor of Imphal Review of Arts and Politics

SOUMYADIP SINHA

The Manipur government's anti-drugs campaign, grandiosely named "War on Drugs", is almost as old as the BJP's six years in power there under Chief Minister Biren Singh. On March 21, the government completed a year in its second term, yet six years down the line, the way ahead on this battlefront does not seem any shorter, or the challenges any smaller.

Manipur has had a drugs problem for decades, thanks to an ancient trade route that connects it to Southeast Asia and therefore to the infamous Golden Triangle not too far away from its eastern border. In geographical terms, this is a tri-junction where the Mekong River, at a confluence point, splits the landmasses of three nations—Myanmar, Thailand and Laos. Beginning in the 1970s, this had become the focal point of an international network of illegal opium and heroin trade.

Shelby Tucker has a good account on how this came to be so in his book Burma: The Curse of Independence. It is intriguing how this predicament was a fallout of geopolitics of the time—more specifically the Cold War between the Capitalist West and Communist East blocs. The latter bloc was then gaining influence in East and Southeast Asia, prompting the US-led West to attempt halting this march by opening a Cold War front in northern Myanmar's Shan State.

At the end of WWII, even as China's struggle against imperial Japan ended, a bitter internal power struggle began between Mao Zedong's communist Red Army and Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalist Party (Kuomintang). The Kuomintang soon retreated and two divisions of their army ended up taking refuge in Myanmar's northern Shan State in 1950.

According to Tucker, as the Kuomintang troops in Myanmar, assisted by the US, waited for an opportunity to regain China, they turned to streamlining poppy cultivation and refining practices already prevalent. Myanmar ultimately complained to the United Nations, and international pressures, coupled with the growing realisation that China could not be retaken, led the US to pressure Taiwan to evacuate the Kuomintang from Myanmar. The infrastructures for drugs they left behind were taken over by local warlords, the most infamous being Khun Sa. Thus was born the notorious Golden Triangle.

The final blow to the Kuomintang fightback against communist China came no sooner. Tucker notes that as the US itself began facing trouble in Vietnam towards 1970—when a rift appeared between the then USSR and China—it jumped to grab the opportunity and began sending out friendship overtures to Mao's China. After Secretary of State Henry Kissinger visited China in 1971, President Richard Nixon also did so the following year.

Manipur has always been a natural and major transit route for the Golden Triangle drugs. Since the late 1970s, the state has had more than its fair share of drug addiction problems and related scourges such as HIV/AIDS infection, spread mainly from needle-sharing among heroin addicts. The problem became compounded by high levels of youth frustration, leading them to choose political radicalisation and take the path of insurgency, or fall to the lure of drugs and alcohol. A state with a population of less than 3 million—by 2015 had 24,457 people living with HIV/AIDS, according to an estimate by the National Aids Control Programme. While the spread of HIV/AIDS is somewhat under control now, the drugs problem is not.

In the last few years, the problem has acquired another dimension. From just being a transit route and suffering its collateral damages, today a new culture of illegal poppy cultivation has arrived in a big way in its hills—Manipur is therefore poised to also become a source and not just a route of this international drug trafficking network. The administrative lull because of extended nationwide Covid lockdowns starting March 2020, and equally Myanmar plunging back into chaos and lawlessness since the February 1, 2021 military coup, are probably additional factors accelerating Manipur's own descent into the darkness of this netherworld.

This new poppy cultivation culture is now getting progressively more complicated. The challenge is hence no longer just about narcotics control, but also extensive and severe deforestation of hillsides, intensive use of pesticides, weedicides and fertilisers contaminating springs and streams, and ultimately rivers and lakes. Another issue is the faceoffs between forest administrators and villagers who are found to have encroached into previously uninhabited forested hillsides—declared as protected forests or reserved forests under the Indian Forest Act—often for the purpose of poppy cultivation. In this mushrooming multiplicity of related issues, the Biren government's "War on Drugs" has often tended to get diverted from its central focus.

The flashpoint came on March 10. Civil society organisations of Kuki tribes held peaceful rallies at different places to protest government eviction notices served to villages deemed to have encroached into reserved forests. One of these rallies turned violent and protesters clashed with the police. The government, in response, called an emergency cabinet meeting and made some tough decisions, one of which is rather rash. The first said the government would not be taking back its decision to evict encroachers from reserved and protected forests. The second reaffirmed its drive against poppy plantation will continue. The third said the state government would be pulling out of the Suspension of Operations (SoO) agreement with two Chin-Kuki militant groups, the Kuki National Army (KNA) and Zomi Revolutionary Army (ZRA).

The government has not said the three decisions are related but their juxtaposition is too close to not be read otherwise. While the earlier two are understandable and indeed seem to have received the nod from New Delhi, the last is where the state government may end up embarrassed. The SoO is a tripartite agreement between the Centre, the state government, and 25 Kuki militant organisations. Can a responsible party then unilaterally pull out without prior notice? Indications are, the Centre has said no to this. The state government biting off more than it can chew is one thing, but the deadly Golden Triangle now seems to have expanded its boundaries, bringing with it its peculiar brand of social woes to burden all unfortunate to come within it. Manipur's cup of woes is overflowing yet again.

STRENGTHEN SENIORS ACT TO HELP THEM AGE HEALTHILY

DR DEBANJAN BANERJEE
Consultant geriatric psychiatrist, Apollo Multispecialty Hospitals, Kolkata

DR MAYANK RAI
Assistant professor, Department of Psychiatry, Dr. KKBM Subharti Medical College, Dehradun

Indic literature is replete with instances of children volunteering to fulfill their obligations and duties towards parents. In today's India, its youth—who have been brought up on the western staple of fervent individualism and absolute freedom—are caught in the throes of this baffling conundrum. So, what has really changed with the churn of the time wheel and how does it affect seniors?

The NSS survey on the condition of the aged, conducted in 2004, revealed that a significant proportion of older adults depend financially and socially on their children and grandchildren. According to the Census 2011, there are nearly 104 million elderly people (aged 60 years or above) in India: 53 million are female and 51 million are male. A survey on elder abuse carried out by HelpAge India in 2015 reports 73% of the younger population accepting that elder abuse exists. The experience of coming across "instances of elder abuse" is as high as 32.5% among relatives, followed by 21% among friends and 20% among neighbors. With the increasing reach of sustained healthcare and an incremental rise in average life span across the board, this population is estimated to reach 173 million by 2026. With it comes the challenge of providing as much of the population as possible with the same quality of life they have been used to in their younger days—or maybe even better. But the data on the rise of abuse and mistreatment casts a dark and damning spell on the future of our senior citizens.

One may ask: what has the socio-political ecosystem of the country done to stem this ignominious rise in exploitation and neglect of the elderly? The Maintenance and Welfare of Parents and Senior Citizens Act (MWPSC) was enacted in 2007 with an aim to resolve the social and financial issues resulting from the rising apathy of heirs towards the elderly. This Act, while providing economic support and maintenance, leaves most seniors at the mercy of their providers, those in line to their inheritance. The Act was amended in 2019: it expanded the definition of "children" and removed the arbitrary upper limit of ₹10,000 as the maintenance to be provided to the petitioner. Also, the definition of maintenance and welfare was reconstituted to be more inclusive and in line with the idea of a "dignified life" which encompasses both physical and mental health.

Even after such addendums, this Act remains riddled with hazardous odysseys. By simply relegating the responsibility of the elderly almost entirely to their wards, the state seems to have washed its hands off them. Doling out sums of ₹200–₹500 to the BPL category seniors under the Indira Gandhi National Old Age Pension Scheme seems woefully inadequate and small to maintain a dignified life.

> The causes of elder abuse are multi-fold and not always intentional. Older people with mental health conditions and dementia are more vulnerable. At times, the abuse is more "covert" and passive

The lack of robust social welfare schemes for the geriatric population remains an elusive feat for the state. Though there are maintenance officers entrusted with effectively smoothening the process of transfer of the welfare sum and other disputes arising in such cases, they lack empowering action in cases where maintenance sums are denied or stopped. The question of reappeals and repeated objections fall on a sloping edge. Punishment for abandonment and abuse of the senior citizen is almost frivolously ineffectual. Furthermore, the inadequacy of information about their rights and laws as well as inaccessibility to the corridors of justice compound this festering situation.

The MWPSC Act, even with its good intentions, has several shortcomings. It remains within the civil purview, and so legal authorities have an inherent inertia about the same. Tribunals that are needed to settle the dispute of neglecting seniors are largely lacking in many areas. The definition of "abuse" itself is ambiguous, making it difficult to pinpoint the perpetrators. This is coupled with an indoor "settlement" in most cases. Digital literacy is dismal among our older adults and as a result, they fail to reach out to online helplines/portals. Many older adults are unaware of the provisions of this Act altogether whereas many do not report abuse for fear of legal hassles and lack of action.

This narrative needs to change. The MWPSC is not enough in its own right! Policymakers need to adopt a "no tolerance" policy to elder abuse, similar to that of child maltreatment and intimate partner violence. The Act needs further amendments to prevent, identity and deal with abuse with harsher punishments. Older people need empowerment to report in a receptive atmosphere while law enforcers need to continuously follow up every case of abuse. Media awareness is also a must. On a larger spectrum, we all need to strive to strengthen intergenerational bonds so that the young serve as gatekeepers of healthy and happy ageing.

The causes of elder abuse are multi-fold and not always intentional. Older people with mental health conditions and dementia are more vulnerable. At times, the abuse is more "covert" and passive—the perpetrator may not be aware about it. Hence, dialogues with social workers and physicians are often helpful before legal action. Incorporating such provisions, the MWPSC Act needs stricter implementation. It is the only Indian Act till date for the elderly: hence it indeed needs to be The Act for their protection!

The UN International Decade of Healthy Ageing is 2021–2030. This decade needs us to strive for the human rights of older people, ensuring their dignity and preventing elder abuse—so that India turns into The Nation for Older People.

Renaming places

India outrightly rejecting China's attempts at renaming a number of places in Arunachal Pradesh is a stern warning against that country's malafide intentions to continue increasing its territorial reach. However, our External Affairs Minister should have refuted their claims instead of delegating such responsibility to the spokesperson.

Indian secularism

The Georgia Assembly has passed a resolution condemning Hinduphobia. Such resolutions should be passed by Parliament and State Assemblies in India, too, as we are witnessing Hinduphobia in the nation. The term secularism has come to mean anti-Hinduism. Most think they have to take an anti-Hindu stance if they have to win the 'secular' label.

Historians, academics slam NCERT

Removal of Mahatma reference paints an inferior image of India globally: Tushar Gandhi

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

AMID furore over NCERT removing references to Mahatma Gandhi's pursuit of Hindu-Muslim unity and a ban on the RSS, historians and academics have slammed the move, saying this is an attempt to politicize education.

While CPM general secretary Sitaram Yechury said communal rewriting of history has intensified, CPI's D Raja said, "NCERT behaving as National Council for Eradication of Rationality & Truth! Changes are another attempt at distorting & rewriting history by RSS. Sardar Patel banned RSS post Gandhi's assassination to root out the forces of hate and violence. No amount of lying can conceal that."

Oppn reacts

While CPM general secretary Sitaram Yechury said communal rewriting of history has intensified, the Congress' Jairam Ramesh called it an attempt to "whitewash history with vengeance."

Speaking with this paper, Tushar Gandhi, great-grandson of Mahatma Gandhi and author of 'Let's Kill Gandhi!: A Chronicle of His Last Days, the Conspiracy, Murder, Investigation, Trials and the Kapur Commission, said that he is not surprised that the NCERT has deleted references to Gandhi from the political science textbook of Class XII. "It is an expected move by the Sangh Parivar."

"They have been campaigning that India's image is being tarnished. But they are tarnishing India's image globally. This move paints an inferior image of India internationally. Gandhi is a respected figure historically and internationally," Gandhi said.

Ashis Nandy, a noted sociologist and clinical psychologist, said, "One of the most dangerous things of the 20th century is interfering with history. It began in the 1930s with Nazi Germany, and where it reached the level of book burning. What is happening now is deeply disturbing."

Mridula Mukherjee, who taught history in at the Centre for Historical Studies, JNU, said NCERT "quietly" deleted references to Gandhiji, the role of RSS, and banning of RSS.

Irfan Habib, historian and author, added that this is not rationalisation, but politics. "This has more to do with present politics than history."

Could be oversight: NCERT chief on Gandhi omission

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

THE deletion of some content on Mahatma Gandhi from Class 12 textbooks could be an oversight, NCERT chief Dinesh Saklani said on Wednesday, responding to the controversy over new omissions.

The removal of portions on the RSS ban after Gandhiji's assassination and references to his pursuits on Hindu-Muslim amity has snowballed into a political controversy.

Saklani said the furore over the missing content on Gandhi ji's assassination has been "blown out of proportion" as new books under the National Education Policy 2020 will roll out next year.

Speaking to this newspaper, Saklani said that no change was made after the rationalisation exercise last year. "We have not made any changes since the rationalisation last year. We have followed all the procedures," he said.

"If a chapter is removed or a big portion is deleted, then that is discussed beforehand. But if one or two lines are deleted, that is not discussed," he said, stressing that one or two lines from the chapter on Gandhi getting deleted could be an "oversight."

On the ongoing debate, he said, "It is untimely and unwanted because last year, for three months NCERT gave its version gradually with all clarity. The whole nation was convinced and welcomed the decision. Even the student community was convinced and welcomed the move as their burden was reduced during Covid."

NCERT's priority is to roll out textbooks based on NEP 2020, Saklani told this correspondent. "We are going to publish foundational stage books. These books for Class 1 and 2 will come out soon, and then the rest of the books till Class 12 will come out next year."

Quit Cong because of Rahul, so did many others, says Azad

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

FORMER Congress leader Ghulam Nabi Azad on Wednesday said Rahul Gandhi is the reason for him and several other 'young and old' leaders to quit the grand old party. The former Jammu and Kashmir CM made the comments during the release of his autobiography 'Azaad', in the capital.

"Rahul Gandhi is the reason that I am not in Congress today. Many young and old deserted the party for the same reason," he said.

Azad, who quit last year, said Congress has become a party of spineless bunch. "If you are in Congress, you will have to undergo an operation to remove your spine," he said. The autobiography, which gives a glimpse of his political journey through the years, was released by former Union minister Karan Singh.

Azad said though he has difference of opinion with the functioning of Congress, he has objected to the conviction and subsequent disqualification of Rahul on defamation case. "When the disqualification happened, I gave a statement in Jammu that it was wrong. Though I left Congress, my objectivity is still intact," he said, adding that Rahul is paying the price for tearing the 2013 Ordinance on conviction of politicians.

Azad regretted the UPA government should have stuck to the Ordinance despite Rahul's reservations. "He was not part of the cabinet. You all know how weak our cabinet was. If we had passed it, Rahul would have been saved today... None except the President can overrule the cabinet decision," he said.

On top Congress leaders and three CMs accompanying Rahul to a Surat court, he said, "The party should not issue a whip to the leaders to accompany Rahul to the Surat court. Indira Gandhi or former PM Narasimha have never asked any leader to accompany them."

Azad, who formed Democratic Progressive Azad Party after quitting Congress, also said Sonia Gandhi doesn't have the power to decide whether Azad can come back to Congress or not.

"Sonia Gandhi doesn't have the power to call me back into the party. If she had the power, I would not be where I am today. Even if she takes me back, she can't guarantee what would be done to me," he said.

Comparing Rahul's style of functioning with former Indira Gandhi and Rajiv Gandhi, Azad said, "Indira Gandhi was a 24/7 politician. Rajiv Gandhi was a reluctant politician, but he gave hundred per cent. Sonia Gandhi also worked hard. But Rahul's heart is not there. Politics is about commitment to people, party and the country," he said.

Places of Worship Act: SC sends matter to 3-judge bench in July

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday posted for July the pleas challenging constitutionality of provisions of Places of Worship Act, 1991, a law that protects the identity and character of religious places prevailed as on August 15, 1947.

The provisions of the Act, as per Section 5, however, do not apply to the place or place of worship commonly known as Ram Janma Bhumi-Babri Masjid situated in Ayodhya and also to any pleas suit, appeal or other proceeding related to the place or place of worship.

Noting that the Union has failed to clear its stand, a bench of Chief Justice of India (CJI) DY Chandrachud and Justice JB Pardiwala directed for listing the matter before a three-judge bench in July.

Earlier on January 9, a bench of CJI DY Chandrachud and Justice PS Narasimha agreed to post the plea after February, after the bench was informed that the Centre was "consulting" and the "process was going on".

Noting Senior Advocate Kapil Sibal's contention regarding maintainability of the pleas, the bench clarified that the same will be considered first. "This is legislation in terms of which certain observations were made in Ram Janmabhoomi verdict. Such pleas can't be in the form of PIL qua judgment of court. How can you review the judgment? There cannot be PIL qua an act. Please not my preliminary objections," Sibal had earlier argued.

Considering his submissions, the bench said the objections pertaining to maintainability will be heard first. "Senior Advocate Kapil Sibal seeks to raise preliminary objections to the maintainability of the pleas," bench said.

Questioning the Centre's act of delay in filing a comprehensive affidavit, Advocate Vrinda Grover, appearing for All-India Muslim Personal Board and Jamiat Ulema i Hind, said that religious character of Kashi and Mathura were being sought to be altered.

'Rupee-rouble trade can resolve payments issue'

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

RUSSIAN Chamber of Commerce and Industry (CCI) president Sergey Katyrin said on Tuesday that the issue of payments between Russia and India is close to resolution and the two sides have been working on various options.

Katyrin, who is in India as the head of a large business delegation from Russia, told this newspaper that the possibility of doing trade in rupee and rouble is very much on the table. "In the previous year, we have traded for $30 billion. Most of the payments happened in national currencies. We have been with many countries in national currencies. In our Eurasian Economic Union (which includes five countries), nearly 75 per cent of the mutual settlements are in national currencies. With many partners these relationships are being built on a mutual basis which includes China and India."

However, all mutual settlements will not be in rupee, Katyrin said, adding, "There is a segment which does not allow us settlement in rupees. At the same time, we would not want Indian banks to attract sanctions from the West. Of course, we are looking for other options, there are complications, but there are many options too."

'All mutual settlements will not be in rupee'

The possibility of doing trade in rupee and rouble is very much on the table, said Russian Chamber of Commerce and Industry (CCI) president Sergey Katyrin. However, all mutual settlements will not be in rupee, Katyrin said. India and Russia have been engaged in talks to resolve the payment crisis

India and Russia have been engaged in talks to resolve the payment crisis. Russia supplies huge amounts of arms and equipment as well as crude oil to India. Since the sanctions imposed by the western countries on Russia after it attacked Ukraine, dues have been piling up on India. Among the options is the revival of the rupee-rouble trade.

The Russian side has been bullish on India and in spite of the dues piling up, Russia has continued with the supplies. The country, in fact, is seeking a closer engagement with India. The Russian delegation of businessmen that has arrived in India is seeking collaborations with india businesses in many fields. "Around 90 companies are accompanying us from various sectors like automobiles, IT, machine building, pharmaceuticals, etc. Our spectrum is very wide. These companies are mostly medium and small scale. Usually the big companies have their own connections. Help is needed by small and medium scale industries. For this reason, we are inaugurating today an India office of the Russian CCI at New Delhi," Katyrin said.

"Russian companies are looking for partners in India. Many companies that were earlier working in the West are also looking at partnering with India since their businesses are not viable there any longer," he said.

The Russian business delegation engaged on Wednesday with the India counterparts in business-to-business meetings organised by the Federation of India Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FICCI). "FICCI has made a special electronic platform for of the Indian businessmen to engage with the Russian industry. Arrangements have been made to help the Russian and Indian companies to identify their potential partners well in advance of our India trip. We had been preparing for this visit for more than two months along with Indian colleagues and I am sure this will be very successful," said the Russian CCI president.

HC cautions Didi on Hanuman Jayanti

Asks for deployment of Central forces to ensure law and order

PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

WITHIN a week, West Bengal witnessed violence in Howrah and Hooghly during Ram Navami processions. The Calcutta High Court on Wednesday directed the state government to seek assistance from paramilitary forces during Hanuman Jayanti celebrations on Thursday by requesting the Union Home Ministry. The Centre was also asked to deploy the Central forces by the state.

"The state police are required to take all steps with the assistance of paramilitary force or other Central force to prevent any untoward incident so that the public is not put in jeopardy," a division bench comprising acting chief justice T.S. Sivagnaman and justice Hiranmay Bhattacharyya said. The bench also directed that no person, either a political personality or leader or even a common man, will make any statement in public about the festival to be celebrated on Thursday considering the sensitivity.

The High Court passed the directive responding to a PIL filed by leader of the Opposition and BJP MLA Suvendu Adhikari after the incidents of violence from Howrah's Shibpur and Rishra in Hooghly were reported during Ram Navami processions.

The bench also asked the state government represented by the advocate general to specify the steps to be taken to avoid any untoward incident during the religious celebration. Responding to it, the state submitted that it has imposed 27 conditions on those seeking to carry out processions.

In the submission that state said the trend of celebrating the Hanuman Jayanti festival started in Bengal five years ago and it not used to be one of the regular events celebrated in the state before that.

Amitava Chakrrabarty, organisation secretary of the West Bengal Vishwa Hindu Parishad, said processions on Hanuman Jayanti would be taken out where permission has already been granted on the basis of conditions. "In other places, the celebrations will be carried out in temples," he said. The state decided to deploy paramilitary forces in three districts.

BJP MLA marshalled out of Bihar House

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

EVEN as normalcy started returning to the riot-torn Biharsharif and Sasaram in Bihar, politics over the communal violence in the state continues unabated. The political heat also spilled over to the state assembly as BJP MLA Jivesh Mishra was marshalled out from the House as he created a ruckus in support for his demand for an explanation from Chief Minister Nitish Kumar over communal flare-ups in Biharsharif and Sasaram.

Mishra said he was demanding a statement from the chief minister on communal violence in Sasaram and Biharsharif but instead of him, the in charge of the state home department Bijendra Prasad Yadav wanted to do it. He also alleged that the speaker in a one-sided decision marshalled him out of the House.

On the other hand, Nitish claimed that some people tried to create communal disturbance in Biharsharif and Sasaram deliberately and said that all those involved behind it would be exposed soon.

Fake encounter, say families of slain Maoists in J'khand

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

FAMILY members of the Maoists gunned down by police on Monday claimed that it was a fake encounter as police has shot them on their heads from point blank range after they caught the five of them.

Director General of Police Ajay Kumar Singh, however, rejected their allegations stating that there is no substance in it and asked them to bring proof if they have any. Notably, five Maoists were gunned by security forces at Lawalong in Jharkhand's Chatra on Monday.

Those who were killed in police encounter include, Subzonal Commanders Amar Gnjhu, Nandu and Sanjeev Bhuiyan, besides SAC members Gautam Paswan and Ajit Oroan alias Charlis. The SAC members had a bounty of ₹25 lakh each, while the Sub-zonal commanders had prize money of ₹5 lakh each on their heads.

Family members of SAC Member Gautam Paswan said that they had reached Chatra with the intention to surrender, but were killed by police.

'Reds were shot in head from point blank range'

Families of the encountered Maoists said that the five of them were shot from a point blank range. "Had there been an encounter, there would have been firing from both the sides, but no firing was done from the other side. All of them were shot on their heads, which is unlikely," said Santosh Yadav, brother-in-law of one of the maoists.

"Police has killed my father in a fake encounter as they have been shot on heads from a close range. I will go to Human Rights Commission seeking justice from them," said SAC member's son Chandan Paswan. According to Chandan, police did not want them to lead a dignified life, therefore they killed his father so brutally.

"They want us to join Maoist group. This is not an encounter; it is a cold blooded murder," he said. Santosh Yadav, son-in-law of Nandu, said, "Had there been an encounter, there would have been firing from both the sides, but no firing was done from the other side."

Shah launches news in local language on radio

Union home minister Amit Shah during his recent Bastar visit inaugurated a news bulletin in local Halbi dialect on Akashwani, citing that it will strengthen the local language and connect the tribals of the region with the nation and the world. A week later CM Bhupesh Baghel launched the state's first digital radio station 'radio sangwari' to promote the art and culture of the state. The monthly radio programme of PM Narendra Modi (Mann Ki Baat) and CM Baghel (Lokvani) on issues of people or regarding governance proved that the radio listenership remains strong and growing.

Singhdeo's aspiration for CM post persists

'Why shouldn't I desire to become the chief minister now? I always wished to be the CM earlier too', said health minister T S Singhdeo, who hinted yet again that he keeps his hope alive. He recalled that ahead of the 2018 Assembly polls, the Congress has not declared anyone as the face of CM. The four senior party leaders, who got elected, were called by the High Command to Delhi. Finally, Bhupesh Baghel became the CM for his capabilities, mass contacts and vision for Chhattisgarh. "Given a chance, why I shouldn't be the CM. But all these are the matters within the party. I know and will speak one day on what discussions were then held in the meeting in Delhi", Singhdeo said.

Cong promises MP temple audit after Indore stepwell cave-in

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal

SIX days after 36 devotees died in the step-well roof's collapse at a temple in Indore on Ram Navami festival, the opposition Congress on Wednesday promised to enact a law for safety and security audit before all big public events, on coming to power in Madhya Pradesh.

While recounting a series of incidents, which claimed several lives at crowded social and religious events during the 18-year-long BJP rule, MPCC president Kamal Nath said, "On coming to power, a law will be framed to categorise all kinds of social, religious and other gatherings of public importance, based on the expected number of attendance at the events."

"The events will be categorised based on the expected number of people likely to gather, starting with the primary category of 1,000 to 5,000 and ending with the final category of over one lakh people."

Alleging that delayed response by rescue teams contributed to loss of lives in Indore, Nath said community emergency response teams would formed in every district once Congress comes to power.

Punjab govt nod to pvt players in power sector likely to impact revenue

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

PUNJAB's AAP government is going ahead with the smart metering project as a backdoor entry of privatization of power distribution in the state. The tender for 100% smart metering across the state will be floated shortly — 85 lakh meters for domestic, commercial and industry consumers.

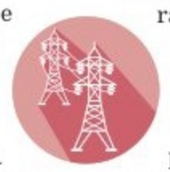
Other state governments are dilly-dialing over installing these meters as mandated by the Union Ministry of Power. The reason is that the state power utilities will lose control over their revenue.

Sources said the state government has pressed with the Punjab State Power Corporation Ltd (PSPCL) to finish off the tender work and set in motion smart metering. It is estimated that each meter will cost the consumer ₹10,000 while the maximum subsidy will be of ₹900.

Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann reportedly assured PSEB engineers association that privatization would not be resorted to. However, the conditions laid down in the tender document are such that the private firm that is allotted the tender will have a complete control as well as revenue of the corporation, said sources.

'Each meter to cost ₹10k; subsidy to be up to ₹900'

It is estimated that each meter will cost the consumer ₹10,000 while the maximum subsidy will be of ₹900. Sources said the state government has pressed with the Punjab State Power Corporation Ltd (PSPCL) to finish off the tender work and set in motion smart metering. The tender for 100% smart metering across the state will be floated shortly.



An officer said that already large and medium supply industrial consumers are on smart meters (8,000 large industrial consumers out of the total 1.50 lakh such consumers.

Also the distribution losses are 12.99%, as the majority of the theft is due to "political patronage."

The PSEB Engineers Association has written to Mann and state Power Minister Harbahajan Singh.

Watered down Right to Health Act keeps 90% of pvt hosps out of ambit

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

RAJASTHAN has become the first state in the country to provide the Right to Health (RTH) to its citizens after the doctors' strike was withdrawn on Tuesday.

There are following key gains:

- In case of a medical emergency, one will be able to take treatment in any hospital covered under this Bill without giving any pre-payment. If the person is unable to pay after treatment, the government will pay the amount.
- By bringing many hospitals under this ambit, the person who needs immediate medication in case of an emergency will now get it even in private hospitals. The treatment can be given to him in his golden hour. The emergency cases will include road accidents, snake bites and poisoning.
- Patients who will come under the purview of this bill will be able to get facilities like free OPD, IPD and emergency care. The patient will be entitled to access all his records, investigation reports and bills for treatment.
- When the patient has the right to collect the bill for every treatment and facility, then the private hospital or medical college will be saved from collecting that money.

The other big question is which hospitals are being brought under the ambit of RTH? The hospitals will include:

- All types of government hospitals including all government medical colleges and all private medical colleges of Rajasthan.

However, the RTH Bill passage was followed by a 16-day strike by doctors and health professionals in private hospitals and clinics. The strike was called off after an agreement.

The key takeaways are:

- The private sector has been largely left out of the bill, with only 47 hospitals in the state coming under its purview. There are over 2,000 private hospitals and nursing homes across the state.
- Only 9 private medical college-cum-hospitals in the state will be bound to provide emergency services. Over 90% of private hospitals in the state will now be exempt from providing any kind of free services.
- Only three districts -- Jaipur, Udaipur, and Sriganganagar -- have 9 medical colleges that will come under the ambit of RTH.

The doctors on Tuesday called off their fortnight-long agitation after a consensus was arrived at and an eight-point agreement was agreed upon between government and doctors. The deadlock was ended after doctors held a meeting at the residence of Chief Secretary Usha Sharma.

CM Ashok Gehlot had said: "I am happy that finally an agreement has been reached between the government and doctors on RTH and Rajasthan has become the first state in the country to implement the same. I hope the relationship between doctors and patients will remain the same in future."

Gujarat says rioters will be punished, but no conviction in 84 riots in 3 years

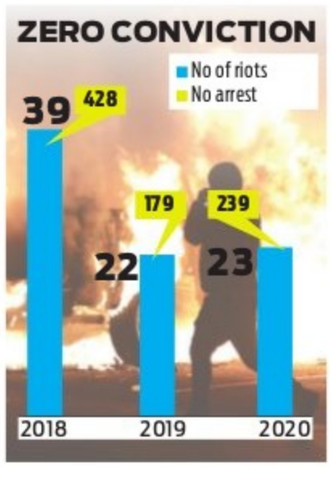
DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

GUJARAT Minister of State for Home Harsh Sanghavi has said that those who fled Vadodara and went into hiding after stone-pelting during last week's Ram Navami processions will be traced, prosecuted and convicted.

The data on past record of such incidents, presented by the government in the Lok Sabha in the winter session, however, do not inspire confidence. Over the past three years, more than 80 riots occurred in Gujarat, but no one has been convicted.

Stones were thrown at a Ram Navami procession in the Fatehpura area of Gujarat's Vadodara city on March 30. Home minister Sanghavi visited Vadodara on Tuesday and addressed a press conference.

"Those who fled the city and went into hiding after throwing stones will be tracked down and brought back to the city. We will apprehend every such person and take harsh action against them," he said.



The BJP government has been continuously saying that there has been peace in Gujarat since 2002 and that the gov rnment has quelled the riots by taking strict action against rioters.

According to the data presented in the Lok Sabha, there were 39 communal riots in Gujarat in 2018 and 428 rioters were apprehended by the police. While the state saw 22 communal riots in 2019, 179 rioters were arrested. In 2020, 23 incidents of communal riots broke out and the police arrested 239 people.

In total, there have been 84 incidents of communal violence in the state over the three years between 2018 and 2020, but not a single accused has been punished. The conviction rate is zero. "The BJP government is responsible for the communal riots in Gujarat, so the real culprits are never caught," Congress spokesperson Hiren Banker said.

"In any communal riot, the government arrests people of a particular community, but they are never found guilty because there is no evidence against them in the court. In reality, the BJP government's own data demonstrate this," he added.

Hiren Banker Said "During the Gujarat election, the BJP government made big claims about how safe and secure Gujarat is. Where is the security and who is safe in Gujarat if there have been 84 incidents of communal riots in three years? This should be clarified by the Home Minister."

Post-Art 370, investment gets a boost in Kashmir

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

AFTER abrogation of Articles 370 and 35A and bifurcation of J&K state into two Union Territories (UTs) by the Centre on August 5, 2019, a total of 185 non-locals have bought land in Jammu and Kashmir and 1,559 companies have made investments in the UT.

However, no non-local has bought land in Ladakh where political parties, traders and civil society members are demanding 6th Schedule status to safeguard jobs and land rights of the local population.

In a written reply, Union Minister of State for Home Affairs Nityanand Rai on Wednesday informed the Rajya Sabha that as per the information provided by J&K government, 185 persons from outside the Union Territory have bought land in J&K in the last three years.

According to the data, only one person bought the land in J&K in 2020, followed by 57 in 2021 and 127 in 2022.

On August 5, 2019, the Centre scrapped Article 370, which granted special status to J&K, and Article 35A, which barred outsiders from purchasing land and property in J&K. The Union government also bifurcated J&K state into two UTs --- Jammu and Kashmir (with legislature) and Ladakh (without legislature).

In response to a question on the number of companies investing in J&K post Article 370 revocation, the minister informed the Rajya Sabha that, as per information provided by J&K government, a total of 1,559 companies, including multinational companies, have made investments in the UT.

According to data, 310 companies made investments in 2020-21, followed by 175 in 2021-22 and 1,074 in 2022-23 in J&K.

J&K Lt Governor Manoj Sinha recently informed that J&K government has received private investment proposals worth ₹66,000 crore within two years.

In neighbouring Ladakh, no land has been bought by persons from outside the UT and no company has invested in the UT during the last three years, the home minister informed the Rajya Sabha.

In Ladakh, Leh Apex Body (LAB) and Kargil Democratic Alliance (KDA), an amalgam of trade unions, social, political and religious, students groups from Ladakh, have joined hands to spearhead campaign for grant of 6th Schedule status, statehood with legislature, creation of two Lok Sabha seats and reservation of jobs to locals in Ladakh UT.

The LAB and KDA have threatened to intensify the agitation to press the centre to fulfill their demands.

Meanwhile, to end the impasse in Ladakh, the central government has reached out to Ladakh bodies — Leh Apex Body and Kargil Democratic Alliance — and sought from them specific provisions they want in 6th Schedule for the cold desert.

Cherring Dorjay Lakruk, an executive member of Leh Apex Body, said, "We will be meeting the Kargil Democratic Alliance leaders and it will be jointly decided what provisions we want for Ladakh."

Clashes as Israel police storm Jerusalem mosque

Fears of escalation as rocket attacks and air strikes follow raid on mosque at sensitive hilltop compound holy to both Jews and Muslims

JERUSALEM

ISRAELI police clashed with Palestinians inside Jerusalem's Al-Aqsa mosque on Wednesday, sparking a military exchange of rockets and air strikes in flaring violence as the Jewish Passover coincides with the Muslim holy month of Ramadan.

Armed police in riot gear stormed the mosque's prayer hall before dawn, aiming to dislodge "law-breaking youths and masked agitators" they said had barricaded themselves inside following evening prayers. The officers were met with a barrage of rocks and fireworks, police video showed.

More than 350 arrests were made in the raid, which drew threats from Palestinian groups and wide condemnation from Muslim countries and beyond the region.

UN Middle East peace envoy Tor Wennesland urged "leaders on all sides" to "act responsibly and refrain from steps that could escalate tensions".

Washington expressed "alarm" at "the shocking scenes in Al-Aqsa Mosque and rockets launched from Gaza toward Israel".

In a statement, the US office of Palestinian affairs called for "restraint and de-escalation to allow peaceful worship and to protect the sanctity of the holy sites".

Germany urged both sides "to do everything possible to calm the situation".

Palestinian witness Abdel Karim Ikraiem, 74, charged that Israeli police armed with batons, tear gas grenades and smoke bombs, burst into the mosque "by force" and "beat the women and men" worshipping there.

One video widely circulated on social media showed police clubbing people on the floor inside the mosque.

The Palestinian Red Crescent said it had treated 37 people for injuries, including some after their release from custody.

Israel's far-right National Security Minister Itamar Ben Gvir voiced his "complete backing" for police and praised their "swift and determined" actions. Palestinian militant group Hamas, which rules the Gaza Strip, called on West Bank Palestinians "to go en masse to the Al-Aqsa mosque to defend it".

Rockets were fired in the predawn hours of Wednesday from Gaza into Israel, without causing casualties, prompting retaliatory air strikes. Agencies

Don slams charges as insult to country

WASHINGTON

DONALD Trump offered a full-throated defence of his conduct Tuesday in his first public remarks since being charged over hush money payments to a porn star, blasting the criminal prosecution as "an insult to our country." Hours earlier the 76-year-old former US president pleaded not guilty to 34 felony counts in a dramatic hearing in New York — and began the countdown to the first ever criminal trial of an American president.

"I never thought anything like this could happen in America — never thought it could happen," Trump told an audience of several hundred donors, political allies and other supporters after returning to Mara-Lago, his beachfront mansion in southern Florida.

"The only crime that I've committed is to fearlessly defend our nation from those who seek to destroy it... It's an insult to our country." Trump — the frontrunner in the race for the 2024 Republican nomination — said.

The bizarrely celebratory mood in the room seemed at odds with the gravity of the day's events in Manhattan, with Trump reprising the applause lines that his supporters hear regularly at his rallies — and being rewarded with the same boisterous cheers and clapping. Agencies

Falsifying biz records in the 1st degree

Donald Trump was confronted with a 34-count felony indictment charging him with a scheme to bury allegations of illicit affairs that arose during his first White House campaign. All counts relate to falsifying business records in the first degree

34 counts

- 11 are related to invoices submitted by Trump's former lawyer Michael Cohen to Trump Organization
- 11 are related to cheques issued for "phony purposes". Nine of them were signed by Trump
- 12 are related to false entries in the general ledger of Donald J Trump Revocable Trust

FELONY OR MISDEMEANOR?

Under New York law, falsification of business records can be a misdemeanor. However, the charges can be upgraded to felonies if they were done with the intent to defraud or with the intent to commit or conceal another crime

Under New York State law, it is a felony to falsify business records with intent to defraud and intent to conceal another crime. That is exactly what this case is about. Thirty-four false statements made to cover up other crimes — Alvin Bragg, Manhattan District Attorney

Marin to step down as party head after defeat

HELSINKI

FINLAND'S Prime Minister Sanna Marin, who lost a general election at the weekend, said on Wednesday that she would step down as the leader of the Social Democratic Party and dismissed notions of any international postings.

"I have come to the conclusion that I will not seek to continue as SDP leader at the forthcoming party conference in September," the 37-year-old leader told reporters in Helsinki.

Sanna Marin

The 37-year-old said she would continue as a lawmaker, despite speculation that she could be in the running for a top job at an international agency.

"I have not been offered any international posts. I will continue my work as a member of parliament," Marin said.

She will submit her government's resignation on Thursday, acknowledging that her term as prime minister had taken a toll.

"My own endurance has been tested at times during these years," she said.

Hoping to live "a little calmer life," she also said she would not seek the presidency.

But Marin said she does not expect to become a cabinet member in the next government even if it includes her Social Democrats.

"I don't think it's likely that I would be in that line-up of ministers myself," she said.

"Now that the election result was like this, I believe that I also have the opportunity to reflect on my own life and turn a new page."

Adern's climate pitch in last parliament speech

WELLINGTON

FORMER New Zealand Prime Minister Jacinda Ardern bowed out of parliament on Wednesday, making an impassioned plea during her tearful final speech to "please take the politics out of climate change".

Jacinda Adern

Ardern shocked New Zealand earlier this year when she announced she was stepping down as prime minister and retiring from politics, saying she no longer had "enough in the tank".

Draped in a korowai — a traditional Maori feather cloak — Ardern recalled her humble beginnings in a working class family, and how she never expected to lead the country.

She singled out the climate crisis as the defining issue of her time in politics.

"Climate change is a crisis. It is upon us," she said.

The 42-year-old, once the youngest woman leader in the world, choked up at several points during the speech, which she started and finished in the Maori language.

Her voice was thick with emotion as she recalled the pain caused by the Christchurch attack.

"Having sadly seen our nation in horrific moments of grief, I've concluded that countries don't move on from tragedy, rather they become part of your psyche," she said.

She will now devote herself to stamping out online extremism as part of the Christchurch Call project.

Thailand's main opposition Pheu Thai party confirmed on Wednesday the daughter of billionaire ex-premier Thaksin Shinawatra as one of its candidates to be prime minister in the kingdom's upcoming election. Hero MotoCorp launches VRS for employees

Applicable to all staff, offer includes one-time lump-sum, variable pay, medical coverage, among other benefits

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

HERO MOTOCORP on Wednesday announced launching a voluntary retirement scheme (VRS) for its staff, which it calls has been designed in line with the vision to make the organisation agile and 'future-ready', consolidating roles and reducing layers to increase empowerment and agility.

This decision by the country's top two-wheeler maker comes a week after appointing Niranjan Gupta as the new Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the company, elevating him from his current position as its Chief Financial Officer (CFO), Head - Strategy and M&A.

"We expect this (the VRS) to improve efficiency within the company through a lean and more productive organisation," said Hero MotoCorp in a statement. The VRS is applicable to all its staff members and according to Hero, it will offer a generous package that includes – among other benefits - a one-time lump-sum amount, variable pay, gifts, medical coverage, retention of company car, relocation assistance, career support etc.

The company has six facilities in India, and one each in Bangladesh and Columbia.

According to Hero's annual report, the number of permanent employees on the rolls as of March 31, 2022, was 9,173 (previous year 8,793) including workers defined under the Factories Act, 1948. Hero had said its employee cost has grown nominally by 1.9% due to an increase in counts and the impact of annual increments.

Hero spent a total of ₹1,935 crore in employee benefits in financial year 2021-2022 (FY22), up from ₹1,899 crore in FY21. Its total expense in FY22 was reported at ₹26,552 crore.

Gupta's appointment as the CEO of the company was seen as a long pending move as many believed that there is a need for Hero to rope in more professionals to run the company more efficiently. Hero has changed the leadership team, in the last two years, who were earlier reporting to Chairman Pawan Munjal.

RIL secures $5 bn back-to-back loans from foreign banks

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

MUKESH AMBANI-led Reliance Industries (RIL) has secured $5 billion in back-to-back foreign currency loans.

Reliance Jio Infocomm Ltd, a unit of RIL, secured the $2 billion add-on facility on Tuesday with same terms as its recent $3 billion syndicated loan. The oil-to-telecom conglomerate last week raised $3 billion from 55 banks and its telecom arm secured additional credit of $2 billion from 18 banks.

As per industry insiders, the new loan will carry the same terms as the $3 billion borrowing signed on March 31 with 55 lenders, including 40 that joined in two phases of syndication. According to the industry insiders, the funds will mainly be allocated towards RIL's capital expenditures and Jio's nationwide 5G expansion.

"Eighteen banks, including the 15 senior MLABs (mandated lead arrangers and bookrunners) of the $3 billion loan and others joining in the senior phase, are expected to form the syndicate for the $2 billion add-on, which is split equally for RIL and Jio, and is likely to be wrapped up by the end of the month," said sources.

According to the people known to the development, the conglomerate is one of the most sought-after for credits and enjoys deep banking relationships. They said this was visible from the response to the $3 billion loan and also from the reception the $2 billion add-on has already received.

"The decision to raise another $2 billion stems from the overwhelming response from the market as lenders remain hungry for the blue-chip group that has not been active in the syndicated loan market in recent years," they added. Nearly a third, $927 million of the allocations, came from 19 Taiwanese banks that dominated the final list of lenders in the syndicate, while another eight from Japan it took $276.36 million combined.

'Vi's inability to raise fund can lead to duopoly'

NEW DELHI: The inability to raise funds by debt-laden telecom operator Vodafone Idea (Vi) can lead to duopoly in the Indian telecom market and that could negatively impact consumers, said a report by data and analytics company GlobalData. The report also suggested that the government should intervene to ensure that there is healthy competition in the telecom market and that consumers have access to high-quality, affordable services. "The government may need to intervene to ensure there is healthy competition in the market. Survival of Vi is necessary to avoid a duopoly in Indian 5G market," said Charan Padala, Principal Analyst at GlobalData. ENS

'Reserve Bank likely to change stance to neutral'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) is widely expected to hike repo rate by another 25 basis points on Thursday.

While the decision of RBI on repo rate is keenly awaited; economists, bankers and other stakeholders will be keeping a close watch on the views of RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das on the stance of the central bank, going forward. Experts expect the central bank to change its current stance of withdrawal of accommodation to neutral as liquidity deficit in the banking system is likely to increase during the April- June quarter. The change in stance is also crucial for the market and the broader economy as the neutral stance will signal that there would not be more rate hikes in the current calendar year.

"The change to neutral stance will be due to a couple of factors. First, there is already paucity of liquidity in the system which will continue into April. Therefore, the stance cannot be withdrawal of accommodation," Madan Sabnavis, Chief Economist, Bank of Baroda told this newspaper. "Second, by changing the stance to neutral the message conveyed will be that we are at the end of the cycle of increasing rates. Third, the signal will also be to let the market know that liquidity will be provided to ensure stability," he added.

If the RBI sticks to its stance of withdrawal of accommodation, it would be an indication of further rate hikes. Even at the last meeting, the market was expecting a change of stance

Promoters may infuse ₹2,800 cr before disinvestment of HURL

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE promoters of Hindustan Urvarak and Rasayan Ltd (HURL), which comes under fertlizer ministry, are mulling to raise ₹2,800 crore via equity infusion before submitting its proposal for disinvestment to the Department of Investment and Public Asset Monetization (DIPAM), a top government source told this newspaper.

The funds will be used to meet the additional expenditure required for completion of the three projects at Sindri, Gorakhpur and Barauni. As per sources, there is a variation of about 32% in total original cost of the project and in the present estimated cost. All the three plants had commenced their operation last year and are operating at 95-105% capacity.

"Promoters will finance the cost overrun. The company's board had recommended the cost overrun proposal in March-end. The board will likely approve it on April 6," the official said. "The board had recently reviewed the disinvestment proposal of HURL and it was suggested by the promoters that the disinvestment proposal of the company should be sent only after the equity infusion for cost overrun," he further said. "In the meantime, HURL is preparing a draft of joint memo for submission to DIPAM," he stated.

HURL was incorporated on June 15, 2016, as a joint venture company by Coal India (CIL), NTPC and Indian Oil Corporation (IOCL) as the lead promoters with Fertilizer Corporation of India (FCIL) and Hindustan Fertilizer Corporation Limited (HFCL) as other two partners. The lead three promoters hold a total of 89% equity share with equal partnership, while FCIL and HFCL together have the balance 11% share against their usable assets, opportunity cost and use of land on lease basis at the three plant locations. The Ministry of Power and the Ministry of Coal have already granted their in-principle approval for the disinvestment. Meanwhile, boards of NTPC, IOC and CIL have also approved the proposal of privatisation.

Sensex, Nifty rally 1% despite weak global cues

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

BEATING weak global cues following the release of weaker-than-expected US economic data, India's equity market benchmarks- BSE Sensex and NSE Nifty – rallied 1% on Wednesday.

The fresh surge comes a day before the RBI will announce the outcome of its latest policy meeting. Street estimates the central bank to announce a 25-basis point rate hike in its policy announcement on Thursday and then take a pause.

Sensex surged 583 points, or 0.99%, to settle at 59,689 on Wednesday, while broader Nifty50 rallied 159 points or 0.91% to settle at 17,557. This is the fourth straight session when the two indices have clocked gain. During this period, Sensex has surged over 2,000 points and investors' wealth witnessed an appreciation of ₹9.45 lakh crore as market capitalisation of BSE-listed firms rose to ₹261.31 lakh crore on Wednesday. "The domestic market is displaying resilience, unaffected by the weaker global peers, thanks to strong banks and NBFCs quarterly numbers and the windfall tax cut," said Vinod Nair, head of research at Geojit Financial Services. The recent US data revealed a softening in the labour market and falling factory orders, increasing the likelihood of a pause in rate hikes by the Federal Reserve, he added.

Wednesday's rally was by HDFC twins, which rallied about 3% each. Financials stocks were in high demand after data indicated strong deposit growth and loan disbursements in the March-ended quarter. Investors have turned bullish ahead of the March quarter earnings season, which begins next week with heavyweights TCS, Infosys, and HDFC Bank announcing their numbers. Besides HDFC twins, Larsen & Toubro gained over 4% after its hydrocarbon business bagged 'mega' order from the Middle East. ITC, Hindustan Unilever, Grasim and Sun Pharma rose 2% each.

Dhoni among 5 Indians to get MCC life membership

The prestigious Marylebone Cricket Club (MCC) housed at the iconic Lord's cricket ground, on Wednesday, gave 'Life Membership' to World Cup-winning captain Mahendra Singh Dhoni along with four other distinguished India internationals. The other include, Yuvraj Singh, Suresh Raina, former women's national captain Mithali Raj and Jhulan Goswami.

ACTC meetings pending, athletes forced to fend for themselves

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

AS many as 15 men rowers will represent the country at the World Cup scheduled in Croatia from May 5 to 7. All of them are camping at the Army Rowing Node (ARN) in Pune. Everything went on well till March 31 but since then the rowers have not received their supplement allowances, which is Rs 490/day/athlete. The situation is likely to continue for at least a week as the Rowing Federation of India's (RFI) ACTC (annual calendar for training and competition) meeting is scheduled on April 12 and the ongoing camp can be sanctioned only in that meeting.

"Every athlete gets 690/day for diet and Rs 490/day for supplements. This has stopped since the end of the financial year 2022-23 as the camp for 2023-24 can only be sanctioned during the ACTC. A meeting with the Sports Authority of India (SAI) had already been held but the presentation done by the RFI couldn't impress the officials. The federation will meet them again on April 12," a RFI source told this daily.

A total of 28 men rowers are camping in Pune while 18 women rowers are camping in Hyderabad. All of them are facing the same problem. "We are not getting the supplement allowance since April 1. We are managing with the leftovers from the previous cycle. A few of us are also spending from our own pockets as we were told that the expenses incurred will be reimbursed once the meeting is over and camp is sanctioned," said one of the rowers.

Unfortunately, there has been concerns regarding release of funding for quite some time. Some of the National Sports Federations (NSFs) have not received money for hosting nationals even. It is understood that the sports ministry has stopped funding under assistance to NSFs head apparently due to some court order last year. Though camps and everything had been sanctioned in the last ACTC, the release of funds has been a concern.

"We have organised national championships and other meets but the process has become complicated. While the SAI makes payments directly to vendors but a few big expenditures are made directly by the NSFs. If these payments get delayed, NSFs get in trouble. Apart from this, teams also attend international tournaments. Those expenses are also pending," said an office-bearer of one of the NSFs. As far as RFI camps are concerned, the dietary requirements are being managed on goodwill. "We are getting diet on credit. These caterers have been serving our campers for a long time so at the moment they don't mind providing food to our athletes. But the situation can go out of hand if the camps are not sanctioned soon. It can also affect performance in the upcoming World Cup," added the RFI source.

All the selected rowers are scheduled to appear in the visa interviews soon. Like them, athletes from other federations are also preparing for vital events like Olympic qualifiers and Asian Games. Such issues could have a lasting effect on their performances which in turn may take a toll on India's show at the 2024 Paris Olympics.

Openers' half-centuries and Ellis' four-for seal last-over thriller for Punjab against Rajasthan

Kings stand tall in battle till death

Shikhar Dhawan started off watchfully and went on to score bulk of the runs for Punjab Kings in the IPL match against Rajasthan Royals in Guwahati | SPORTZPICS

GOMESH S @ Chennai

WHEN it was announced that the Assam Cricket Association Stadium in Barsapara, Guwahati will be hosting a couple of Indian Premier League games as Rajasthan Royals home ground, one thing was clear — they were going to be a run-fest.

After all, apart from the venue's debut international game in 2017, all three of the completed games were high-scoring contests. India chased 320-odd runs in 42.1 overs against West Indies in 2018, scored 373 against Sri Lanka earlier in January, and almost failed to defend 237 against South Africa in a T20I last year.

The clash between Royals and Punjab Kings on Wednesday was expected to be no different. And that is exactly what happened as Shikhar Dhawan and Prabhsimran Singh set the ball rolling from the very first over.

While Dhawan held one end to play the anchor role as he has in the past few years, Singh took on the RR bowlers. He launched Trent Boult over mid-off, smacked KM Asif into the square-leg stands before hitting the right-arm pacer for 19 runs in his second over.

Over the next few overs no RR bowler was spared — Boult, Yuzvendra Chahal, Jason Holder were all at the receiving end of Singh's carnage. The 22-year-old was lighting up the stage so much that social media went berserk. The PBKS management, however, was not one to be surprised. For they were the one to sign him for ₹4.8 crore in the 2019 auction when he was just 18. While he did not get a consistent run — Singh played five games over the next three years — they had backed him and picked him again in the 2022 auction. Last year, too, he played just one game with a heavy batting at the top. This year, however, Jonny Bairstow's injury came as a blessing in disguise as Singh was asked to open the batting. The 22-year-old repaid the faith with a swashbuckling 60 off just 34 balls on Wednesday before holing out in the deep off Holder's bowling.

Once Singh got out, Dhawan kept the momentum going along with Jitesh Sharma. Sharma hit Chahal over extra-cover for back-to-back boundaries before Dhawan sent the leggie over long-on. The 37-year-old employed all the shots there is, scooping Asif, sweeping and reverse sweeping Chahal to all sides of the ground. The only bowler who was able to keep things quiet was Ashwin, who finished with 1/25 in his four overs.

Even as wickets fell at the other end, Dhawan smashed an unbeaten 86 off 56 balls, helping his side get to 197/4. As expected RR came close to chasing down the target before falling short by five rune. However, what remains a fact is that a 37-year-old and a 22-year-old have come together to put on a show for PBKS this season and it seems like there is no stopping them at the moment.

Brief scores: Punjab Kings 197/4 in 20 ovs (Dhawan 86 n.o, Singh 60; Holder 2/29) bt Rajasthan Royals 192/7 in 20 ovs (Samson 42, Hetmyer 36; Ellis 4/30).

AN INJURY-RIDDEN KOLKATA KNIGHT RIDERS TAKE ON ROYAL CHALLENGERS BANGALORE IN KOLKATA. A LOOK...

KOHLI VS NARINE

Virat Kohli lit up the opening game of the season for RCB with a match-winning knock. The former skipper, it seems, have found his mojo through this year. But against KKR, he will have a challenge in Narine. Should the spinner come out all guns blazing, it will make for an interesting contest.

PRESSURE ON RUSSELL

Andre Russell is their biggest match-winner for half a decade now. However, the West Indian has blown hot and cold and in a season where KKR has lot quite a few players to injury, his form becomes all the more important for the franchise to have a season to remember.

ROY SIGNED BY KKR

KKR have signed England opener Jason Roy for the rest of the tournament. Roy, who went unsold in auction, would be expected to play an explosive role at the top, especially with Shreyas Iyer getting ruled out for the rest of the season.

UNSOLVED CASE

ITF set to resume tennis in China with no word on Peng Shua

AP @ Tokyo

THE International Tennis Federation will play tournaments this year in China with no word of a resolution to the case of Chinese doubles player Peng Shuai.

Peng disappeared from public view shortly after accusing a former high-ranking Communist Party official — in a web posting in November of 2021 — of sexual assault.

The ITF, which conducts tournaments below the elite level in its World Tennis Tour, lists its first tournament in China on June 5-11 at Luzhou. The ITF's last full season in China was 2019, prior to Covid-19.

"The ITF anticipates a resumption of tournament activity within China for each of the ITF Tours later this year," the ITF said in a statement. The WTA, which runs the sport's top-tier women's events, hasn't announced if it will resume staging tournaments in China.

In late 2021, WTA Chairman and CEO Steve Simon announced that the WTA would be suspending all of its tournaments — including the season-ending WTA Finals — that were held in China because of concerns over Peng, costing the tour millions.

The men's ATP has scheduled several event for later this year in China. It canceled 2022 events because of Covid-19 restrictions in China. Peng gave a controlled interview a year ago during the Winter Olympics in Beijing and had dinner at the event with International Olympic Committee President Thomas Bach. She left many questions unanswered and has largely been out of public view since then.

Simon has repeatedly called for a "formal investigation" into the allegations made by Peng, and has asked to meet privately with Peng. It's not clear those conditions have been met.

In a statement announcing the ITF men's and women's tournaments returning to China, ITF President David Haggerty said the sport's world governing body had to invest in the professional events that worked as "the main artery for the top level of the game."

"As the global guardians of the game, we are passionate about providing a pathway for up and coming talent in all countries, and providing more opportunities for players to play closer to home," Haggerty said, adding that the ITF was pleased to be returning to countries such as China, Burundi, Cyprus, Trinidad & Tobago and Taiwan.

Happy to see Ruturaj's development: CSK batting coach

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

IF you ask most coaches in the Indian Premier League who are part of various teams what are the areas that they focus on, one of the most common answers is 'power hitting'. In the T20 format things happen at a rapid pace and the last thing any team management wants is for a batter to accumulate dot balls.

However, there is no one way to achieve this goal. Batters need not necessarily have to be reliant on their power-hitting alone to make an impact. Someone like Ruturaj Gaikwad, for example, has adapted to the T20 format by expanding his range and power while sticking to his basics. The CSK opener's 52-ball 90 and 31-ball 57 in the first couple of games this season is testament to that. "He (Ruturaj) has added power to his game," says CSK batting coach Mike Hussey. "Nice to watch him play and develop his game. He has good self-awareness and knows what he needs to improve. He has a beautiful all-round game. He plays good shots and slowly adds 'power' shots to his game, making it difficult for bowlers to bowl as he plays good shots with 4's and 6's as well."

"He (Ruturaj) is definitely good enough to play in the Indian team. It's a very difficult time to get into (India team) with so many great players. And international cricket is tough, not easy. I have no doubt he can be successful at that (international) level, it will take a bit of time, but it's part of the journey. Sometimes its a long journey, some get an opportunity but others like me take time. The great thing about Ruturaj is he has a great understanding of his game,"added the former Australian who had to wait for his time to break into the mighty Australian side during his playing days. A former CSK opener himself, Hussey believes that power-hitting is something that can be developed by any batter. "One can master the art of power-hitting by practicing more and more and getting better at it with different shots. The more you practice, you are bound to get better," said Hussey.

''I think it's a natural evolution of the game really and the players are becoming more confident. As I said earlier the players are practicing more aggressive strikes day-in and day-out and getting better and better at those. They are getting more confident and naturally their game keeps evolving. In the past, in T20 a 160 score was a win, but today the scores go higher and higher. I think it's the natural evolution of the game,'' he added.

Case in point is the Rajasthan Royals captain Sanju Samson. An aggressive batter, who has transformed into a bonafide T20 batter with focus on power-hitting. "Sanju's game was always like that (aggressive). He had a lot of power in his strokes. Yeah, he even practiced specifically in power-hitting to add new dimension to his shots and have a go at the bowlers from ball one. All players cannot be converted into power-hitters. The players must have the skill-sets to play aggressively. Having said that, even conventional players can put runs on the board like Gaikwad and Shubman Gill. I believe that both can exist,'' said Tinu Yohannan, former India player and mentor of Sanju Samson.

Prize money boost for women

ROME: The Italian Open plans to award women the same amount of prize money as men starting in 2025. When Iga Swiatek won last year's tournament on the red clay of the Foro Italico, she earned less than half of what Novak Djokovic took home for his title. Swiatek received a check for 332,260 euros ($364,000) while Djokovic was paid 836,355 euros ($916,000). Italian tennis federation president Angelo Binaghi announced the developmenet on Tuesday.

TESTING TIMES

Chelsea, Liverpool draw 0-0 again to underline sharp decline

AP @ London

ANOTHER 0-0 stalemate between Chelsea and Liverpool. Another match highlighting the sharp decline of two of England's top teams who, at this rate, are unlikely to be playing in the Champions League next season.

Chelsea was playing its first game since the firing of Graham Potter on Sunday but little was different under his interim replacement, Bruno Saltor.

Indeed, there was something very familiar about the teams serving up a goalless draw. That has been the score in this fixture in their last four meetings — both Premier League matches this season and both domestic cup finals last season, which were ultimately won by Liverpool via penalty shootouts. The top four, and qualification for the Champions League, is looking increasingly unlikely for both teams.

Liverpool, which ran Manchester City so close for the title last season, is in eighth place and seven points off fourth-place Tottenham. Chelsea, on the back of spending $630 million in the last two transfer windows, is four points further back in 11th place. Scoring goals remains Chelsea's big problem, with the expensively assembled team failing to net at home for the fifth time in 2023.

Tuesday's results: Bournemouth 0-2 Brighton; Chelsea 0-0 Liverpool; Leeds 2-1 Nottingham Forest; Leicester 1-2 Aston Villa.

Reece James had a strike disallowed for a offside against Enzo Fernandez and Kai Havertz's celebrations for a goal in the second half were cut short after VAR spotted the ball rebounded off his arm and into the net after Liverpool goalkeeper Alisson Becker saved the striker's shot. "These have been emotional days," Bruno said, "and the players have been able to keep focussed. It's a credit to them."

Mo Salah (L) was unable to inspire Liverpool after coming off the bench | AP

Liverpool manager Jurgen Klopp was satisfied with the reaction of his team after a humbling 4-1 loss at Man City, which led to him making six changes — including dropping Mohamed Salah, Trent Alexander-Arnold and Andrew Robertson to the bench. "Yes, it was not the best football," Klopp said, "but these boys are really good footballers and tonight they put in a proper shift."

SOUTHWARD BOUND

Actor Vedvika Soni, previously seen in Ravi Teja's Dhamaka is making her Kannada debut with a political drama, to be released in time for the Karnataka Elections

DESE GOWDA

Vedvika Soni, the fresh faced actor known for her role in Ravi Teja's Dhamaka, is all set to make her Kannada debut in an upcoming film Rajkeeya, which is expected to be released during the time of Karnataka General Elections. She plays the role of a young college student from a rural background who stands up against the political establishment for the betterment of her village. "One of the directors that I've previously worked with in Telugu industry approached me with the role. He felt that I was more suited to the role and could convincingly pull it off," shares Soni adding that the film, directed by AR Shaan, is currently in post-production with the first teaser set to be released in the coming weeks.

An MBA graduate, Soni grew up in Ahmedabad and moved to Mumbai to try her luck in showbiz. When an unexpected opportunity to do films in the South presented itself, Soni happily obliged, but the language barriers were a major obstacle for her. With Dhamaka, the limited scope of her role meant that language wasn't much of a problem. But when she graduated to a lead role with Rajkeeya, it was suddenly a huge problem.

However, a helpful suggestion from one of her co-stars in Dhamaka, Sachin Khedek came to her rescue. "While doing Dhamaka, I learnt a lot. Everyone was very nice and supportive of me, even though they had so much experience. Sachin sir was especially nice. He felt I should be able to make basic conversations in the languages I work in. So he told me to learn the top 100 words from languages like Telugu and Kannada and that most conversations would only rely on those words," she adds. So how did the advice work out for Soni? "I'm getting better at Telugu. With Kannada, I can understand the language, but cannot speak well. The thing is most Bengalureans don't use Kannada themselves, they speak to me in English!" Soni shares.

Set in a rural background, Rajkeeya delves into electoral politics. Furthermore, most of the film is set during night hours and along with the village setting, initially made Soni question her choice to do the film. "While I agreed to take up the project, when we actually started shooting, I started having second thoughts. The villagers would flock to watch the shoot and the way some of them stared at me would make me uncomfortable. But within a few days, I realised they were actually very nice," she shares, adding that the villagers soon became like family to the crew. "They'd constantly offer us tea, and since I only drank black tea, they even learned to make it just for me!" she says. "I'm a vegetarian, and everyday the villagers would cook for me. It was an enjoyable experience."

Apart from Rajkeeya, Soni is also involved in a few projects in Telugu and one in Tamil. She has received a few offers from Kannada as well but is waiting for Rajkeeya's release before deciding on anything.

MONIKA MONALISA

LOOKING for a quick watch that's gripping? Then filmmaker Roshan D'Souza's short film Amrtyu, could be a good pick. A psychological thriller, it revolves around the life of an amnesia patient Rishi who has forgotten his past completely. The short film also stars Keerthi Bhanu , Sangeetha Rajeev, Pradyumna Narahalli in lead roles.

Explaining the film's premise, D'Souza says, "The short movie is about a person who has lost his memory, but he's seeing some portion of his memory in his dreams and is trying to make sense of what he's seeing."

One of the key points in a psychological thriller is its build up. Within its 11-minute runtime, Amrtyu tries establish a complex subject. D'Souza confesses it was very difficult. "It was hard to build that because 11 minutes in a film is a short amount of time. I was particular that I have to finish this entire segment within 15 minutes. So I had to identify the right characters who would convey the story. For example, Aditya is a doctor who is treating Rishi and can give you some idea about the condition," he explains.

He also reveals that the short film is a tease to the feature film which he is planning to make. "This portion of the short movie that you saw is actually part of a bigger story that I'm building right now. I'm writing a script for it," says the marketing professional.

A fan of psychological thrillers, the idea was born in November 2022 which is when the characters, Maya or Rishi, were created. "The only recommendations that you would see in my OTT platforms are thrillers or horror movies. I watch very few action movies, but for me thrillers and horror movies are something I connect with very immediately. I like movies like Inception, Momento, etc. I go very deep into the characters," says D'Souza, adding that the last one that he watched was a Korean series called The King: Eternal Monarch.

Mind Benders

INCEPTION OF MAYA

"I really connected with the character Maya because of her strong image. The look also was so different. Most people told me they couldn't recognise me. But Roshan was convinced that I should give it a try. When we did a dress trial, he told me, 'I got my character Maya'"

Making a mark

A chance turn of events led this tattoo artist to turn it into his profession. As his studio hits the two-decade mark, Pradeep Menon chats with CE about working with the who's who, including Bollywood actor Jacqueline Fernandez

DESE GOWDA

WHEN city-based Pradeep Menon quit his job in a multinational IT company in the early '00s, wanting to start a tattoo studio, he had no source of income and was completely dependent on his family. But his idea didn't get much support from the latter, who wanted him to get into the 9-5 groove. Yet, Menon was determined to pursue his dream. Two decades on, he is celebrating a landmark moment and the risk he took back in the day that has paid off.

It so happened that Menon decided to get a tattoo on whim sometime in 1999 while on a work assignment in Mumbai. After some hunting, he found a studio run by a practising psychologist. The late Dr Jehagir Kurian ran the studio in the same building where he was practising medicine. Watching Dr Kurian work while waiting for his turn, Menon felt that his destiny might be with the art form. "I used to do a lot of sketching until high school. So I thought that tattooing might help me capitalise on those skills," Menon shares.

After much persuasion, Dr Kurian agreed to teach Menon, who immediately quit his job and started interning at the studio. After six months and much practice on himself, he was finally ready to go on his own. "The first tattoo I did on myself didn't heal well, and Dr Kurian was upset and didn't want me to continue. But he reluctantly agreed to let me practice after some persuasion from one of his other students," he says.

Having signed a non-compete agreement with Dr Kurian, Menon returned to Bengaluru with newly-acquired skills. But with his parents against the idea, he had lost hope until a chance encounter with a random stranger on a train journey who helped him realise his dream. "When I told this gentlemen that I had done most of the tatoos myself and that I was looking to start a studio of my own, he told me that he would be willing to invest," Menon adds.

Within a short span of time, Rao's business acumen had helped Menon set up a small and hygienic studio out of a spare room at his parents' home in Fraser Town. Initially, Menon's clients were only through word of mouth during weekends. Slowly, his techniques and designs grew diverse. Around 2005, the-then Miss Sri Lanka, Jacqueline Fernandez was among Menon's growing list of clients. But the following year, his work for an anthropologist, in his sixties, caught widespread attention on the slowly growing interest, leading to an explosion in popularity of his studio.

Now, his studio, Dark Arts The Tattoo Studio in Koramangala, has a range of clientele, from 18 to 65, but college students who initially helped him grow his base are no longer its primary clientele, given the cost (₹3000++). Menon believes in ensuring that the work they put in is cherished rather than being a symbol of regret. "If someone comes to us and asks us to work within a budget, I always advise them to instead save money, and get something that they absolutely like," he shares.

In 2017, Menon founded an association to act as a self-governing body for various independent tattoo artists and studios in the city. As founding-president, he has established strict standard operating practices to ensure that clients would receive consistent, hygienic and good quality service form all the member studios. "Every member goes through a rigourous process, where we go through their portfolio, skill curve and ensure it is up to our standards," he says, adding, "We encourage our members to only use materials and supplies from vetted suppliers. We don't want them using supplies sourced from sketchy sources that might lead to harmful effects on the clients."

If someone comes to us and asks us to work within a budget, I always advise them to instead save money, and get something that they absolutely like

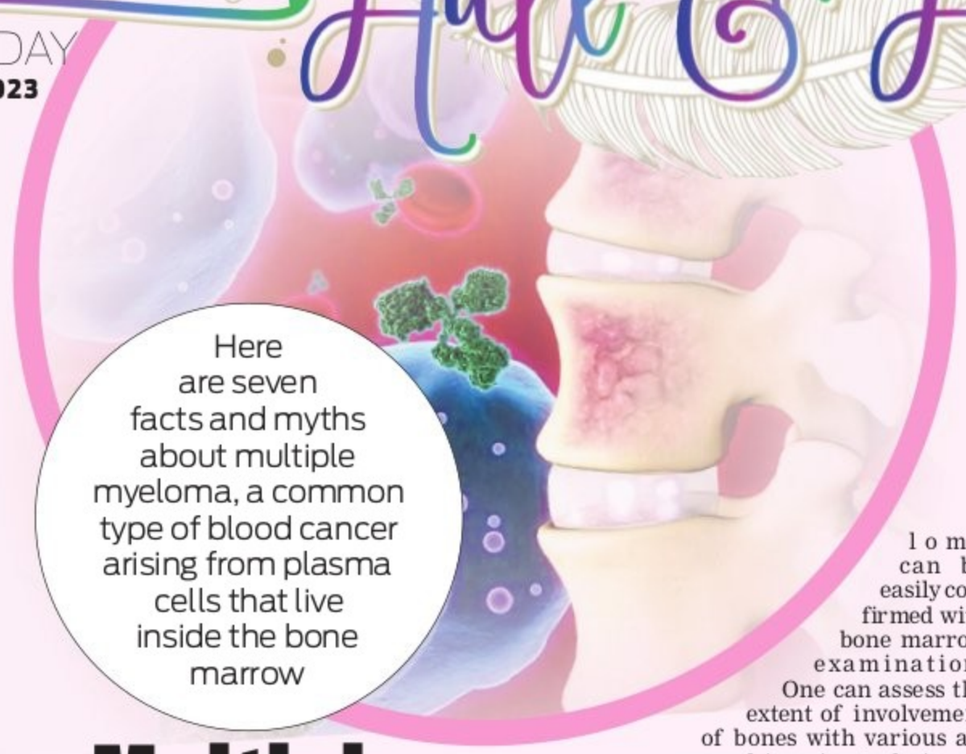
Multiple truths



Here are seven facts and myths about multiple myeloma, a common type of blood cancer arising from plasma cells that live inside the bone marrow

DR MALLIKARJUN KALASHETTY

MULTIPLE myeloma is one of the common types of blood cancer arising from plasma cells that live inside the bone marrow. It accounts for about 10–15 per cent of blood cancers. Myeloma incidence in India is about 1.0 per 100,000, but it is likely to gradually increase based on recent data. There is a lack of awareness leading to many myths about the illness, thus let us look at a few of the myths and truths about multiple myeloma.

Multiple myeloma runs in families - Myth

Only about 3 to 5 per cent of patients with multiple myeloma have a family history, the vast majority of myeloma patients don't have a family history of the disease. Mutations causing multiple myeloma are acquired and aren't passed on from a parent's genes to a child.

Multiple myeloma can break bones - Truth

Myeloma is a cancer of plasma cells that live in the bone marrow and becomes malignant. Thus, it can weaken the bones, cause bone pain and make the bones prone to fracture with minimal or no force on them. These fractures are termed pathological fractures which mostly happen in the skull, spine, pelvis, shoulders, ribs, and hips. Some common symptoms of multiple myeloma include bone pain, weakness, and bone fractures.

It is difficult to diagnose multiple myeloma - Myth

Diagnosing multiple myeloma in the present era of cancer diagnosis and therapy is fairly simple and can be achieved promptly. Initial evaluation of patients suspected to have multiple myeloma involves laboratory blood tests to look for blood components, liver and kidney functions, and also to look for an abnormal cancer-related protein called monoclonal para protein.

Diagnosis of multiple myeloma can be easily confirmed with bone marrow examination. One can assess the extent of involvement of bones with various advanced imaging techniques. There are advanced molecular genetic techniques to risk stratify myeloma and all of these can be done in just a couple of days.

Myeloma patients can survive for many years - Truth

Treatment of multiple myeloma has evolved remarkably in the last few decades. Improved understanding of myeloma biology has led to advances in diagnosis, prognosis, response assessment, and also the development of a plethora of treatment therapies such as immunotherapies and cellular therapies. These advances have led to very impressive improvements in the survival rates of myeloma patients. Most patients now have long survival with a good quality of life.

Multiple myeloma is curable - Myth

Presently, there is no cure for multiple myeloma, though we are headed in that direction. But it is now a very treatable cancer and it's possible to keep the cancer under control for a long time.

Myeloma bone marrow transplantation is done with patient's own stem cells - Truth

Most commonly, Autologous Haematopoietic stem cell transplantation is done for myeloma where the patient's own stem cells are re-infused after giving the patient high-dose chemotherapy to kill his/her cancer cells. This procedure helps to control the cancer for a long time.

Treatment of multiple myeloma is painful & involves lots of surgery and radiation – Myth

Multiple myeloma is largely treated with chemo-immunotherapeutic agents, biological agents, and monoclonal antibodies. Treatment does not involve surgical intervention in the majority of patients.

Periodic boosters keep Covid-19 in check: Study

UPDATED Covid booster shots will be important for shoring up population immunity as new variants emerge, suggests a study. However, the trick is to target a variant for the booster that is so different from the original strain of the virus that it triggers the maturation of new and diverse antibody-producing cells, said scientists from the Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis.

The first Covid vaccines reduced the risk of severe illness and death by more than 90 per cent. But then the virus changed. The antibodies that had worked so well against the original strain proved less effective at recognising and neutralising emerging variants, leading to breakthrough infections.

The obvious solution was to update the vaccines to target new variants, but the success of the first vaccines against the original strain made designing an effective variant booster shot tricky, said Ali Ellebedy, Associate Professor of pathology and immunology, of medicine, and of molecular microbiology at the varsity.

In the study, published in the journal Nature, the team showed that it's possible to design a variant-specific booster that doesn't just strengthen the antibodies people already have but elicits new antibodies. "This means that periodically giving boosters targeting new variants would allow population-level protection to be maintained even as the virus evolves," Ellebedy said.

Court rules in favour of Ramya in Swathi Mutthina Male Haniye title case

The Raj B Shetty directorial is now in the post-production phase, and the makers are planning to announce the release date soon

CE FEATURES

FOR weeks now, actor Ramya's maiden production, Swathi Mutthina Male Haniye, directed by Raj B Shetty, was facing a title row, which finally has reached a resolution. The city civil court ruled in favour of Ramya's Apple Box Studios and allowed her to use the title for the film. Earlier, filmmaker Rajendra Singh Babu had appealed to the court to disallow Ramya from using the title and received a stay order, which was now lifted by the Court.

VEERAM RELAUNCHES ME AS A MASS HERO

...says Prajwal Devaraj, talking about his upcoming release, his confidence on debutant director Khadar Kumar and happy to be fulfilling the wish of his fans

CE FEATURES

Prajwal Devaraj is all excited for his first release of 2023, Veeram. The actor, who has watched the film is confident that the Khadar Kumar's directorial will relaunch him as a mass hero. "It is been a long time since I was part of a mass film. For sometime, I kept working on realistic stories, cop dramas and comedies. I am glad to be returning to a commercial film, which also has strong emotions. Kitty and Sruthi play as my siblings, and Achyuth Kumar as my brother-in-law in the film and our roles reflect the bonding in everyone's family. The love angle with Rachita Ram has also worked out well making it a perfect mass commercial entertainer. I consider it as one of my best films," says Prajwal, who added that he is happy to have fulfilled his fans wishes. "They kept asking, when I will come be back to doing films like Geleya, and Gulama. Veeram is my answer to them."

Ask the actor about his faith in debutant director Khadar Kumar, and he says,"Khadar is a fanatic of cinema since his childhood days, and he has written stories while in school. Some directors have the knack to elevate the heroes on the silver screen with their writing and making, Khadar has done an impressive job with that. Moreover, he comes with 15 years of experience working with other filmmakers, and he was technically confident," says Prajwal, adding, "The director without giving prominence to just action, has brought in required essence of emotions and love into the story.the story.

Prajwal Devaraj

The film will be directed by first-time director Venu and the project will begin in September

Prajwal Devaraj to debut in Telugu with NRI

CE FEATURES

Apart from Veeram, Prajwal Devaraj has completed shooting for Gana and wrapped up his other project Mafia, which is now in post-production stage. He also has another project with Mafia director Lohith H, which is currently on floors and he plays a pivotal role in Tatsma Tatbava.

Meanwhile, Prajwal also gearing up to debut in a new language. The actor, who is in his 16th year of film journey and predominantly working in Kannada films will now be making his debut in Telugu. Titled NRI, the Telugu film will mark the directorial debut of Venu, and the film in all likelihood will take off in September. What took the actor such a long time? "When an actor already has an image, and people loves him in a certain way, I think he should be extremely careful in how he projects himself in another industry. I did get a couple of offers but did not materialise. But the story of NRI penned by Venu what caught my attention. This director has had expreince of working under RB Choudary banner as an associate and co-director. This will be an interesting debut for me in Telugu, and for the director."

About how the production house chose him for project, and he says,. "I was curious to know, why I was chosen for this role, when I was told by the makers, they saw my film, Inspector Vikram, and were keen to cast me for NRI."

The film will be reportedly made only in Telugu and will be dubbed into other languages later.

All about a secret agent mom

KARTIK BHARDWAJ

DIRECTOR Anushree Mehta always knew she wanted to celebrate her mother through her debut feature. She has traversed the road frequented by writers and directors without a 'connection' in the Hindi film industry, the milestones of which include writing for crime shows like C.I.D and Savdhaan India and making a short (Unkahee, 2020). She is wearing the director's hat for the first time for a feature film, Mrs Undercover, a quirky tale of a homemaker/ mother who is actually a secret agent.

"Before making my first film, I knew I had to celebrate my mother through it and show how she dedicated her life to take care of our house as a homemaker. I wanted my film to have a social message but not be preachy. The entertainment factor was extremely important. I love the spy-comedy genre so I thought why not have it in an Indian context," she says.

Over the years, Hollywood has peppered humour over the thrill of a spy movie, (Johnny English, Get Smart) but still there has been a dearth of female protagonists in such films. "In Hindi Cinema this genre isn't explored much but even in the West there are not many spy-comedies with female leads. Only Miss Congeniality and Spy come to mind. With Mrs Undercover, I wanted to amalgamate the close-knit family setup of Indian society with the high-stakes of a spy film," says Anushree.

The director shares that she always had Radhika Apte in mind while writing the script. "I had seen her work. She is like a chameleon and she made the character very real. I remember narrating the script to her and five minutes into it she told me she is on board," she says.

When it comes to casting, Anushree made a peculiar choice of using Sumeet Vyas in a negative role. Sumeet is the quintessential nice guy, at least on OTT with TVF series like Permanent Roommates and Tripling. In Mrs Undercover, however, he plays a serial killer who targets "strong and independent women."

"Because of his previous roles, Sumeet has been compartmentalized as the 'nice guy'. His character is called 'The Common Man' and this imagery of him as a nice man came in handy for the role. Misogyny is ingrained in people, you never know if the cordial man sitting next to you in a café is a sexist serial killer," she says.

Anushree herself faced certain judgment in the industry. "After all I am a female director," she says. "There were people who were not sure if I could handle a set on my own. They didn't say it to my face but it hurt their ego that a woman is instructing them. But it was my job. A director has no gender."

Mrs Undercover is produced by Abir Sengupta and Anushree. Also starring Rajesh Sharma and Saheb Chatterjee, the film premieres on ZEE5 on April 14.

Anushree Mehta's directorial debut Mrs Undercover stars Radhika Apte, Sumeet Vyas, Rajesh Sharma and Saheb Chatterjee

'Ramachari 2.0 is a science-fiction film'

CE FEATURES

THEJ, who made a strong debut with Rewind, is back with his second outing, Ramachari 2.0. The scientist-turned-filmmaker shares a few details about his next, which is slated to hit the screens on April 7. "We already have Nagarahavu's Ramachari and Mr. and Mrs. Ramachari too. My Ramachari 2.0 is a science fiction film that is about the titular character, an intellectual, who is the grandson of a popular personality named Ramachari in Chitradurga. How the younger Ramachari discovers his bloodline and controls the future using the law of lineage and karma form the crux of this film," says Thej, who is also playing Ramachari in this film.

Ramachari 2.0, which stars Kaustuba Mani as the female lead, also has Raghavendra Rajkumar, Vijay Chendoor, Sparsha Rekha, and Chandana playing important roles. With Thej also taking up the responsibilities of a producer, the film has music scored by Pradyoth.

Thej
